POINTS TO WEAK SPOTS IN HITLER WAR MACHINERY

Nazi Bank Analyzes Economic Outlook.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 4.—That Germany is striving desperately to make itself immune against a blockade of any kind that could hamper its freedom of action, and that regimentation automatically leads to more stringent regimentation, are facts demonstrated most convincingly in an analysis of the German economic situation issued today by the official Nazi Reichskredit Gesellschaft, or National Credit company. Reichskredit Gesellschaft is one of Berlin's largest banks.

In its semi-annual report, this organization discloses how the populations of Germany, Austria and the former Czecho-Slovak provinces of Bohemia and Moravia are being uprooted from their homes and transferred to new localities in a campaign to insure self-sufficiency.

Warns of Danger Spots.

The company's report carefully stresses the bright spots, but points to several dangerous spots in the present economic situation. It warns that the German financial structure is becoming top-heavy through credit expansion and public borrowing, and it shows evidence of anxiety about the issue of tax certificates, which removes some of the existing checks on the country's public expenditures.

The report points to the unavoidable necessity of still more rigid price and wage control to restrict the growing internal tensions in German economic life.

While Nazi experts in all walks of life have been collaborating on plans for the complete utilization of all man power and resources in Germany in case of war, Reichskredit Gesellschaft finds several weak spots in Reichsfuehrer Hitler's militarized economy.

Some of the Findings.

It finds:

FIRST—The withdrawal of workers by mobilization—in the army and in fortification work—makes it difficult to maintain the present output in essential industries and in agriculture, and in case of war this will prove almost impossible.

SECOND—Progress in creation of substitutes for raw materials under the four-year plan, though remarkable, is not sufficient to make Germany immune in case of a blockade.

THIRD—Germany has a big grain reserve, which insures a proper bread supply, but still suffers from a severe deficiency in fats. This has been temporarily reduced, thanks to the work of Germany's whale hunters. But in case of war, they will not be able to leave their home ports and Germany will not be able to reach the 56 per cent of self-sufficiency in fats of which it boasted in 1938. The domestic production of butter is declining rapidly. Farmers are slaughtering cows because of the high price of fodder and the difficulty of getting workers to help on the farm.

Transport Czechs to Germany.

FOURTH—The man power and other resources Germany gained through its annexations of the past three years are becoming exhausted. The report admits that 40,000 workers from the former Czecho-Slovak provinces were transported to Germany. It is expected that more will soon be ordered to Germany.

To make up for the shortage of labor the Nazis are compelling small artisans to give up their stores and become factory workers. They place the number who thus consider they were "proletarianized" in 1938 at 100,000. The Nazis expect that "a further combing out of the retail trade in search of superfluous labor working there" may yield another 450,000 workers, or one-third of the retail trade's present personnel.

As regards substitute raw materials, the greatest progress has been achieved in the textile lines. Germany supplied 26.3 per cent of its consumption of textile fiber from domestic sources in 1939, compared to 5.5 per cent in 1933. Synthetic gasoline, though its production has been speeded up, can not keep pace with Germany's increased needs, the report says. The nation still is unable to produce more than 55 per cent of its peacetime motor fuel consumption from domestic sources. War time requirements will, experts admit, be infinitely greater.

SENATE TO VOTE ON RENEWAL OF MONETARY RULE

Test Is Forced by President.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 4.—President Roosevelt's struggle to regain control of the nation's money and currency faces a crucial test in the senate at 5 p. m. tomorrow. At that hour the senate will vote on a conference report on the bill to extend for two years the 2 billion dollar stabilization fund and the President's extraordinary monetary powers. The bill includes his authority to devalue the dollar from 59.06 down to 50 per cent of its former value.

The President's powers died at midnight Friday, the statutory hour of their expiration, when a coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats blocked a senate vote on the conference report. The administration now contends, however, that the dead powers will be resurrected by the passage at any time of legislation to extend an act that no longer exists.

May Be Rejected.

There appears to be a 50-50 chance that the conference report may be rejected by the senate tomorrow. Its rejection on a straight senate vote would be considered an even greater repudiation of the President's monetary powers and his tactics in seeking to retain them than the failure of the senate to reach a vote on the extension legislation before the Friday midnight deadline.

The conference report was further jeopardized today when some of the leading silverite senators threatened to vote against it in the hope of wresting a still greater price for domestic silver from the administration. The silverites, with fewer than 20 votes, hold the balance of power between the New Deal money manipulators on one side and the Republicans and conservative Democrats on the other.

Confident of Strategy.

First they formed an alliance with the conservatives, voting to abolish the President's devaluation power in return for votes to fix a mandatory price of 77.57 cents an ounce for domestic silver. Then the administration approached the silverites and the silverites abandoned the conservatives. The conference committee, dominated by New Dealers, agreed to a mandatory price of 71 cents an ounce for domestic silver and restored the President's devaluation power, which the senate had eliminated.

Today some of the silverites expressed confidence that they could force the administration to come all the way and give them 77.57 cents an ounce by voting against the conference report.

If they should do that, the administration would move to send the rejected conference report back to the house for another conference. The administration would be forced to offer 77.57 cents an ounce for silver or else abandon all hope of regaining the President's power to devalue the dollar.

Have Nothing to Lose.

The argument in the senate debate tomorrow will be something like this: "Heads we keep 71 cents. Tails we get 77.57 cents. We have nothing to lose and 6½ cents to gain."

The administration will lose two silverites regardless. They are Senator Alva B. Adams [D., Colo.], and his colleague, Senator Edwin C. Johnson [D., Colo.]. They are opposed on principle to devaluation and the administration's foreign silver purchase program, which was abolished by the senate bill but restored in conference.

On June 26 the senate voted 47 to 31 to abolish the President's devaluation authority, with eighteen senators not voting.

Republican leaders said they would not lose more than two of their twenty-three members. The most likely to bolt their ranks is Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho] and there is some doubt about Senator Lynn J. Frazier [R., N. D.].

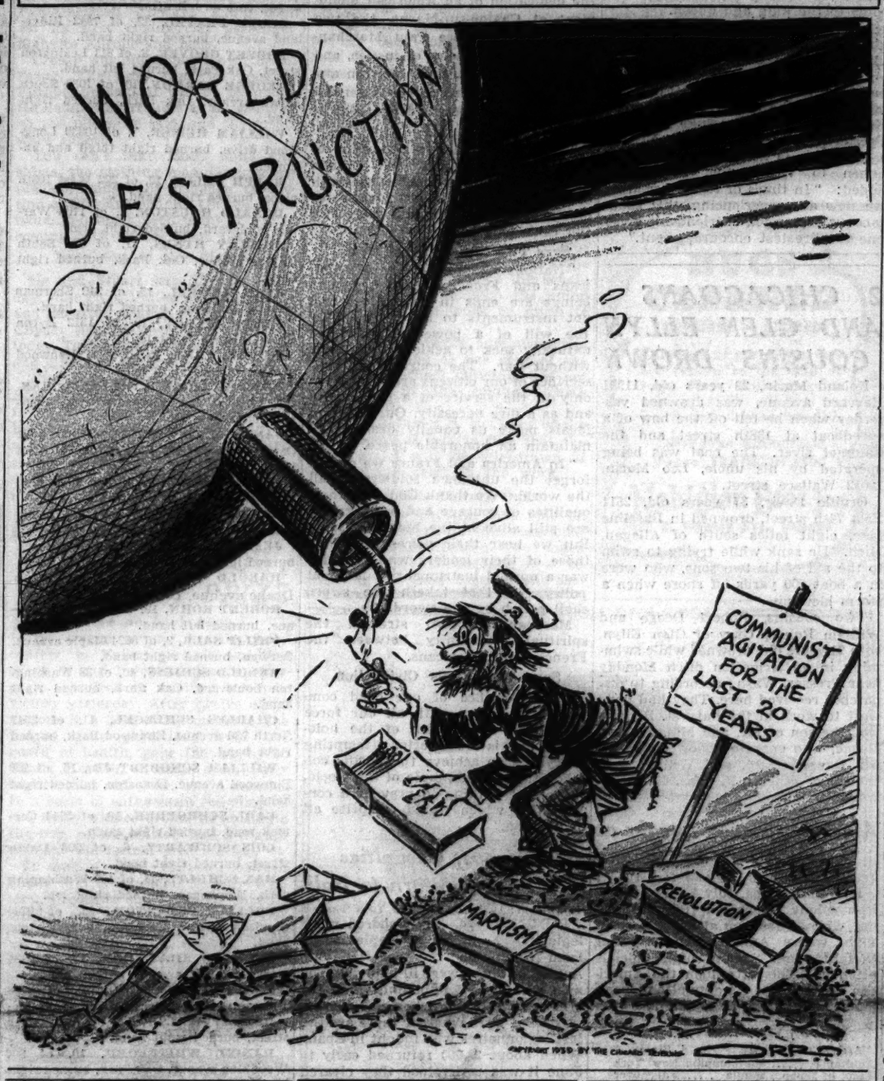
SO FAR IT'S A FIZZLER, BUT HE IS STILL WORKING ON IT



Widow Finds One Visit to Zoo Is Costly

While on a world cruise three years ago, Mrs. Lucy M. Sheridan, widow of a north side manufacturer, met a charming and distinguished gentleman a few years her senior. He was introduced as Albert Watson.

He was good company on the voyage to Honolulu, but when they parted, Mrs. Sheridan, who is in her sixties, never gave him another thought until she heard from him last May. Just before Memorial day Mr. Watson telephoned her apartment at 2719 Hampden court.

Renew Shipboard Friendship.

Mrs. Sheridan agreed to renew their shipboard friendship, and on the following Sunday Mr. Watson took her to the Brookfield zoo.

"Why that's Charley Jordan," remarked Mr. Watson to Mrs. Sheridan as a man passed. "He's a big Whitney broker—handles all his horse betting. Jordan's a heavy plunger himself. May I present him."

Mr. Jordan, when engaged in conversation, revealed a sad plight. Whitney, he said, was firing him next month. But the Whitney account in a local bank, Mr. Jordan declared, stood at $100,000, which would provide him the necessary credit to pull off a betting coup.

"Bets" Money in Their Names.

Mr. Jordan, however, was afraid to bet the money in his own name. If Watson and Mrs. Sheridan would allow him to use their names, he would give them each $15,000. Both agreed.

And sure enough, the next day, Watson and Jordan called on Mrs. Sheridan with the news that the horse had won a fabulous sum. Unfortunately, Mr. Jordan explained, the "exchange" where he bet demanded that he produce evidence he could have paid the bet had he lost.

"I can't get at the money in the bank now," lamented Mr. Jordan.

Widow Hands Over $54,000.

Mr. Watson volunteered to produce $50,000 as a convenience for Jordan. Mrs. Sheridan, not be outdone, agreed to put up her entire resources.

The following morning she withdrew $10,000 in cash and $24,000 in negotiable securities and handed it to Mr. Jordan. That's the last she saw of her money.

Eventually Mrs. Sheridan told her story to detectives who explained she was the victim of the ancient pay-off swindle. Mrs. Sheridan obtained warants for Jordan and Watson, alias Albert Wehless. The federal bureau of investigation is also aiding in the search.

800 GUESTS ATTEND THREE DAY DEBUT FOR APACHE INDIAN BELLES

Alamogordo, N. M., July 4.—(AP)—The Evans girls entered into the final day and night of their three day debut today as their fathers, Paul and Charles Evans, continued to feed 800 guests who plan to stay until tomorrow.

The girls are Mescalero Apache Indian debutantes. According to tribal tradition, it requires 72 hours for such young ladies to be presented correctly.

Ritual of the tribe's annual "coming out party" has changed little during the centuries, but the transition to present reservation habits is reflected in gifts showered upon the debutantes. Amid piles of Indian jewelry, saddles, and beaded costumes were such noticeable anachronisms as silk underwear and stockings.

Before dawn tomorrow the ceremony will end, and young Mescalero Apache bucks may begin a sanctioned courtship of the tribe's newest belles.

Police Cannot Take a Joke, but They Do Take a Joker

C. E. Chapman, 1820 Greenleaf avenue, was teaching his son William, 9 years old, how to shoot firecrackers yesterday when a police squad drew up in front of their home. The policemen told Chapman, an insurance salesman, there was a law against what he was doing. "O. K.," he replied, "we'll wait until you fellows leave to shoot the rest." The police didn't like the joke and took him to the Rogers Park station, where he was charged with possession of fireworks and released in bonds of $25.

50,000 at Atlantic City See 9 Boardwalk Shops Burn

Atlantic City, N. J., July 4.—[Special.]—A three hour fire destroyed nine stores on the boardwalk here today while 50,000 visitors crowded the beach and rooftops to watch it. Damage was estimated at $110,000. Two of 120 firemen who fought the blaze were injured. A lighted cigaret dropped through a crack in the floor of a bingo parlor was blamed for the fire.

Lightning Kills Pair; Baby in Arms Slightly Hurt

Bay City, Mich., July 4.—(AP)—Returning to their automobile today after bathing in Bay City State park, Benard C. Mayville, 26 years old, of Flint, Mich., and his wife, Alice, 26, were struck by lightning. Both were killed but their 18 month old son, Bernard Jr., whom Mayville held in his arms, was not seriously hurt. Other bathers walking near the Mayvilles were unhurt.

Austrian Nazis Hit Cardinal with Bad Eggs

VIENNA, July 4.—(AP)—Hostile demonstrations were disclosed today to have cut short a parish tour by Cardinal Theodore Innitzer, archbishop of Vienna. The demonstrations were interpreted as partly Nazi reaction to the clerical régime under the Dollfuss and Schuschnigg governments of Austria before the nation was taken over by Germany.

Cardinal Innitzer.

The incidents began last Tuesday in the parish of Nieder Russrach and were repeated at Ziersdorf and Koenigsbrunn. All are in northwestern Austria.

The archbishop was pelted with rotten eggs at Koenigsbrunn last Sunday, struck on the head with an umbrella and his chauffeur was beaten, it was reported.

War on Nazis Recalled.

In explanation, it was said that during the Dollfuss and Schuschnigg régimes, the Roman Catholic church in Austria supported Austrian independence and did what it could to suppress National Socialism [Nazism].

The Nazis were said to have resented the fact that Cardinal Innitzer did nothing to save the lives of Nazis who took part in the abortive putsch of 1934 in which Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss was assassinated.

Nazis contended that as primate of Austria the cardinal could have obtained pardons for the condemned men had he pleaded for clemency.

Persons inside and outside the church at Koenigsbrunn hissed when the visiting churchman started to preach on peace, it was reported.

Cardinal's Chauffeur Beaten.

"You preach peace and your hands are stained with the blood of Holzweber and Planetta," one demonstrator shouted.

[Holzweber and Planetta were hanged as ringleaders of the 1934 putsch.]

Later when the cardinal's automobile appeared at the door of the church the chauffeur was beaten and the archbishop became the target for rotten eggs. One demonstrator was said to have struck him with an umbrella, knocking off his cardinal's cap, or biretta.

3,000 Hurled to Ground at Holiday Fete

(Picture on back page.)

More than seventy persons were injured in Waukegan last night in the collapse of a wooden stand which was crowded with spectators of a pageant and fireworks show. Three thousand persons were hurled to the ground when the lower half of the structure gave way.

Mayor Mancel Talcott of Waukegan, who was nearby, ordered fire equipment and police sent to the scene.

Most of the injured extricated themselves from the débris and the others, including seven whose injuries were serious, were carried out. All were given emergency treatment on the field and the seven were taken to hospitals.

Six Residents of Waukegan.

Six of those seriously injured live in Waukegan. They are: Mrs. Anna Sibert, 65 years old, 414 Lake court, who suffered a broken left ankle; Mrs. Eva Mullner, 62, of 412 Belvidere street, fractured ankle; Mrs. Anna Fiefel, 50, of 1416 Hamilton court, possible internal hurts; John Kramer, 49, of 224 McKinley avenue, broken right knee; Joseph Bauer, 41, of 701 Bluff street, fractured left leg, and Miss Gladys Johnson, 22, of 218 South Park avenue, fractured right foot. The other victim is Mrs. Mabel Meekma, 31, of 3008 Ezekiel avenue, Zion, who suffered possible internal injuries.

The celebration was held on Weiss field, athletic ground of the Waukegan Township High school. The stand, 250 feet long, had tiers extending up to a height of eighteen feet. The crowd on it had a better view of the drills and fireworks than the other 17,000 or 18,000 crowded about the field.

The collapse occurred as the last of the fireworks were being exploded and the band was playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Panic Quickly Quieted.

The lower half of the wooden structure gave way in a sharp crash, leaving the spectators on the top tiers stranded but unhurt. A panic developed among the injured but it was quelled in a few minutes.

Mayor Talcott said the stand had been used at football games and that there was no indication it was unsafe even for such crowds as last night's. An investigation will be started today to find the cause of the accident.

In other parts of Chicagoland the celebration of the Fourth leaned to the safe and sane side. Campaigns for fireworks restrictions apparently had effect. Although approximately fifty persons suffered firecracker burns, there were no fatalities and no critical injuries.

[A list of persons in Chicago and suburbs who were given medical treatment for fireworks injuries appears on page 2.]

Seven Wounded by Gunshot.

One drowning occurred near the city and two deaths were attributed to automobile accidents on Cook county highways.

Seven persons were hurt when a celebrant fired a shotgun and sprayed them with buckshot, but their injuries were regarded as slight. The gunman, Michael Bergel, 54 years old, was arrested.

He said he merely had fired in the back yard of his home at 2344 South Albany avenue and had no idea the charge would carry across the street to a group of neighbors.

Mrs. Myrtle Haines, 28 years old, was shot in the left leg by a wild bullet fired by an unidentified celebrant. She was standing on the rear porch of her home at 2828 Wallace street, holding her daughter, 8 months old, in her arms.

Four Fireworks Deaths in Nation.

Figures from the Associated Press showed that until late last night only four deaths in the United States had been caused by fireworks in the last four days. Auto deaths were at least 248 and drownings 145. Last year's total of fireworks fatalities was twenty-five.

Most of Chicagoland's residents flocked outdoors to celebrate. Attendance at the beaches in the city exceeded 300,000, and parks and forest preserves each accommodated 200,000 more. The Brookfield and Lincoln park zoos had from 40,000 to 50,000 visitors each.

Nearly 60,000 thronged Soldiers' field for the annual patriotic fête sponsored by the Cook county council of the American Legion. A feature of the celebration was a ceremony in which 100 aliens received their naturalization papers from Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan.

Another huge crowd gathered in Dyche stadium for Evanston's celebration. Arlington Park race track and the Cubs' baseball park had crowds totaling about 80,000.

L. S. U. EX-HEAD LOCKED UP NEXT TO NEGRO KILLER

Flown Back to Face Fraud Charges.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Baton Rouge, La., July 4.—Dr. James Monroe Smith, who resigned the presidency of Louisiana State university nine days ago and fled to Canada, was locked in a jail cell here tonight next to a condemned Negro murderer.

Dr. Smith was brought back to Baton Rouge to face an indictment charging him with embezzling $100,000 from the university. With him was his wife, who had accompanied him in his indictment as an accessory.

After being finger printed at the East Baton Rouge parish [county] courthouse, which houses the jail, Dr. Smith was told that his bond had been fixed at $50,000. When friends and university officials were unable to raise the amount he was locked up. Mrs. Smith, whose bond previously had been set at $7,500, was released after spending a short time in a cell.

Taken Before Officials.

The Smiths arrived by automobile at the Baton Rouge courthouse at 7:16 p. m. after an all day airplane flight from Syracuse, N. Y., to New Orleans. Dr. Smith was taken before State Attorney General David Ellison, District Attorney Dewet Sanchez, A. D. Buford, United States treasury department agent, and Herbert Christenberry, federal district attorney.

Smith, it was reported at the courthouse, refused to talk with Sanchez and Ellison, who filed the call for the parish grand jury which indicted the educator. Smith was said to have asked them whether the grand jury was still in session and was told it was. The federal officials were reported to have talked briefly with Smith later in his cell.

Ellison and Sanchez want information about Smith's handling of the university's financial affairs in three bank loans totaling $500,000 he obtained on notes given in the name of the school. Treasury Agent Buford is interested in the educator's income tax returns, and Federal Prosecutor Christenberry wants to learn about charges of fraudulent use of WPA men, money, and materials at the university.

Brought Back on Airliner.

Smith and his wife started their fateful flight today from Syracuse in a chartered airplane which flew to Floyd Bennett field on Long Island and waited until the last minute to hop over to Newark to catch the scheduled airliner for New Orleans.

The Smiths were in custody of Murphy Roden, assistant chief of state police, and Bryan Clemmons, special investigator for District Attorney Sanchez.

On the trip south the airliner stopped at Washington, D. C., and Charlotte, N. C., before reaching New Orleans, but the Smiths did not leave the plane and throughout the trip their custodians guarded them closely to prevent questioning by any one.

When the plane arrived at New Orleans' Shushan airport on Lake Pontchartrain, Sheriff Newman H. De Bretton and a squad of deputies were waiting to receive the prisoners. De Bretton had a police car backed to the steps leading from the plane and the Smiths were loaded into the car before hundreds of curious persons, lured from a nearby beach resort, were able to get a glimpse of them.

"Sorry I Left," He Says.

One radio broadcaster managed to push his way through the ring of deputies.

"How are you," he asked Dr. Smith, holding up a microphone for a reply.

"I'm glad to be back," said Smith. "I'm sorry I went away. I was ill advised to leave."

Sheriff De Bretton then gathered his forces. Deputies mounted motorcycles and roared off the field, their sirens screaming. The car containing the Smiths and the sheriff was next, followed closely by six deputies in two more police cars.

Over the ninety miles of highway from New Orleans to Baton Rouge sped the cavalcade and the trip was completed in two hours. When the party arrived at the courthouse Smith and his wife were rushed inside, again before several hundred spectators could see their faces.

As interesting to Louisiana officials as the Smiths themselves were two documents seized by constables in

EX-HEAD OF L. S. U. PUT IN CELL NEXT TO NEGRO SLAYER

Flown Back to Louisiana to Face Fraud Charges.

Brockville, Ont., where the educator and his wife surrendered and were taken into custody last Saturday night after Smith read in Toronto newspapers he had been the object of a search for six days.

Speculate on Contents.

The documents, brought back by Assistant Chief Roden, consist of Mrs. Smith's day-by-day diary of Smith's financial affairs in the closing days of his administration as president of the university, and 100 pages of manuscript by Smith telling about his life and troubles during the nine years he ran the school, almost single handed.

Principal interest in the written record lies in whether Smith or his wife has involved the others that informed persons here are certain had a part in his dealings with funds of the university. They insist that Smith, alone and unaided, could not have manipulated schools funds to the extent of which he is accused.

Many politicians are said to be fearful of what the Smiths have written or what Smith will tell when he goes on the witness stand.

Since his arrest in Brockville Smith has said repeatedly that he has done no wrong and that he was returning to Baton Rouge willingly to straighten out affairs.

Statements Cause Stir.

Wide speculation was stirred here when a statement Mrs. Smith made to Brockville police was repeated.

"When Dr. Smith resigned, Gov. Leche told him to go away for a few days," she said. Still further speculation resulted tonight after Smith's radio remark that he had been ill-advised to go away.

Gov. Richard W. Leche resigned June 26, the day after Dr. Smith fled the state. Two hours after Smith resigned Leche ordered the educator's arrest. Leche gave illness as his reason for resigning and retiring to his estate in Covington, La. He turned the state government over to Lieut. Gov. Earl K. Long, brother of the late Senator Huey [Kingfish] Long.

$400,000 New Orleans Inquiry.

Although accused of having borrowed $500,000 in the name of the university to pay grain market losses, Smith has been indicted only on a charge of embezzling $100,000, the amount of a loan obtained from a bank in Baton Rouge. Two other loans, one for $100,000 and one for $300,000, were obtained from banks in New Orleans and these will be investigated by a grand jury there.

Smith's need for the $500,000 arose when New Orleans brokers found fault with $475,000 of university bonds Smith had posted as collateral to back his trading account.

Today it was revealed the $475,000 issue of bonds had been printed twice. The first time was last October by a company in Philadelphia and the second time was by a Baton Rouge printer last May, a few weeks before Smith negotiated the first loan.

KENNEDY SAYS RULERS GOT MANY FRIENDS FOR ENGLAND IN AMERICA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 4.—Joseph P. Kennedy, American ambassador, told the American Society of London at its annual Independence day dinner tonight that King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain had made more friends for Britain in the United States of America than any other two persons in history.

Kennedy boasted of what he called the success of the royal tour and its effect on American public opinion. America and Britain, he said, now have reached the stage where good relationships are taken for granted. He claimed that the "natural friendship" between the two countries was demonstrated in the spontaneous welcome to the king and queen.

"It was easy to make it an official visit, but not easy to make it a popular success," the ambassador said.

The duke of Kent, youngest brother of the king, was the British guest of honor at the dinner. Replying to Kennedy's speech, the duke said that President Roosevelt did the British a good turn in inviting the king and queen to Washington, D. C. He added: "In times of tension such as we now are experiencing, this spontaneous expression of friendship gives one the greatest encouragement."

2 CHICAGOANS AND GLEN ELLYN COUSINS DROWN

Roland Morin, 22 years old, 11951 Harvard avenue, was drowned yesterday when he fell off the bow of a speedboat at 138th street and the Calumet river. The boat was being operated by his uncle, Leo Morin, 12012 Wallace street.

Orville Davis, 37 years old, 2511 East 74th street, drowned in Baseline lake, eight miles south of Allegan, Mich. He sank while trying to swim to the aid of his two sons, who were in a boat 200 yards off shore when a storm blew up.

Two cousins, Robert Doege and William Robert Gray of Glen Ellyn, both 21 years old, drowned while swimming in an irrigation ditch Monday near Prosser, Wash., according to dispatches received here. They had gone west to work in the harvest. Roberts was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Doege, who operate a flower shop at 542 Duane street, and William was the son of William R. Gray, 477 Kenilworth avenue.

BULLITT WARNS 'HE THAT TAKETH SWORD SHALL DIE'

Lauds American-French Ideals in July 4 Speech.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 4. — The traditional French-American Fourth of July ceremonies were held with unusual solemnity today.

In the principal event of the day—the dedication of an American monument at Chalon-sur-Marne—the two chief speakers were Paul Marchandeau, French minister of justice, and William C. Bullitt, the American ambassador. Referring to the American Declaration of Independence, Bullitt said:

"The courage and self-sacrifice of many Americans and their French comrades made this doctrine the faith of a living nation. It still is the faith of the United States and it is also the faith of France.

Says Two Nations Want Peace.

"Nations which believe as do Americans and Frenchmen that human beings are ends in themselves and not instruments to be employed by the will of a powerful individual naturally seek to achieve their aims without war. The courage and self-sacrifice of our citizens are summoned only in the service of a good cause and as a dire necessity. Our common ideals make us equally desirous to maintain an honorable peace.

"In America and France we do not forget the unknown soldiers of all the world. We thank God that their qualities of courage and self-sacrifice are still alive in the hearts of men. But we hear their voices saying to those of their leaders who consider war a normal instrument of national policy 'he that taketh the sword shall perish by the sword.'"

Marchandeau also stressed the spiritual community between the French and Americans.

Says War Perils Civilization.

"The sacrifice of our dead commands us to act with all our force to prevent the return of the holocaust; that is to say, after attempting everything to achieve the pacific collaboration of the people of the world, to neglect nothing to prevent a conflagration which would comprise all civilization."

600 Troops, Casualties in Spain, Return to Italy

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

ROME, July 4.—Six hundred more legionnaires arrived at Naples today from Spain on the hospital ship Aquileia. These were ill and wounded men who were left behind when the others were brought home. There is no official word whether these are the last legionnaires who fought in Spain. When about 23,000 returned early in June it was understood they cleared the Spanish slate as far as Italians were concerned. On June 28, however, 5,050 more legionnaires debarked at Naples.

FIVE BLAZING OIL TANK CARS TIE UP ALTON MAIN LINE

Gardner, Ill., July 4.—[Special.]—Five blazing oil tank cars tied up the main line of the Chicago and Alton railroad for more than eight hours today following a freight train wreck south of Mazonia, two miles northeast of this Grundy county city.

Arrow locates scene of wreck.

Columns of dense black smoke, shot through with streaks of fire, created a spectacular effect visible for more than twenty miles. Passengers on airplanes reported seeing the blazing wreck, while hundreds of holiday motorists from Chicago paused on route 66, near the tracks, to watch.

The wreck occurred at 11:20 a. m. when fourteen cars of a forty-five car freight train were derailed as the train was pulling onto a freight line cutoff. The train had just passed over the trestle of the Mazonia creek bridge.

Five of the derailed cars, filled with crude oil, burst into flames. This set fire to two box cars loaded with coffee. None of the other derailed cars caught fire.

A FLYER PROVES INDEPENDENCE IN FLIGHTY WAY

He Flees Home, He Flies and Then He's Jailed.

Fred Hoffmann of La Grange Park was under arrest in Springfield last night. The reason Hoffmann lost his freedom on Independence day is quite a tale. It was this way:

Fred Hoffmann.

Shortly before noon he appeared at the Curtiss-Reynolds airport in Glenview. He said he had received instruction from Warren Malvick there, and he wanted to rent a plane for a little hop. Malvick, however, was not on duty.

Hoffmann was sent up with another instructor to see how good he was at flying. The instructor reported after half an hour in a new monocoupe plane that Hoffmann wasn't so good. H. S. Darr, airport manager, said Hoffmann couldn't rent a plane.

Presto! The Plane Flies Off!

Shortly afterward the instructor looked around and the plane was gone. So was Hoffmann.

It wasn't long before Berwyn and Oak Park citizens, in some trepidation, were reporting that a blue and red plane was powerdiving over their heads. Somebody later phoned from La Grange Park that a plane had just missed knocking the chimney off the home of Fred Hoffmann.

Soon the plane, by now the object of a teletype search, including orders to ground it and the pilot, landed at Joliet. The airport manager chatted affably with the pilot, sold him gasoline, and bade him Godspeed. He hadn't got the teletype message.

Seize Flyer at Hotel.

An hour later the Springfield airport had the same visitor. They told him about the order. "Gas her up," answered the flyer. "I'll be leaving as soon as I can get clearance. If anybody wants me, I'll be at the Leland hotel, washing up."

And he was at the Leland hotel when Springfield police arrived to hold him until a warrant could arrive from Glenview, charging larceny of an airplane. Hoffmann said he had been drinking. He went to the airport, paid for an hour's time, and simply decided to take part of it in solo flying, he said.

At Hoffmann's home, 618 North La Grange road, his wife said he left home Monday night to return a rental library book and did not return. They have two children.

WPA WORKER, ILL, HANGS SELF.

Charles F. Neill, 63 years old, a WPA worker, hanged himself yesterday in the kitchen of his home at 148 North Ashland avenue. Relatives said he had been in poor health.

EUROPE AND BACK IN 8 DAYS! THREE CHICAGOANS DO IT

Fly Home from Lisbon Between Shaves.

Stretch your week-end a little and you can have a round trip from Chicago to Europe by airplane.

Three Chicagoans did it last week in three hours less than eight days. They flew so fast on the return trip that one of them, James McVittie, didn't need to shave between Lisbon and Chicago.

The speedy travelers were McVittie, president of the McVittie Plating and Brass Refinishing works; Mark W. Cresap, president of the Hart, Schaffner and Marx clothing firm; and Harold L. Stuart, president of Halsey Stuart and company.

Just Went for the Ride.

None of them was in a hurry. They just wanted to ride the Dixie Clipper, Pan-American Airways flying boat, on its first commercial passenger flight to Europe and back.

Cresap was enthusiastic over ocean flying. The next time he goes to Europe, he said, it will be by plane. He hadn't any trouble at all sleeping on the plane, he said, and the meals were superb.

You can't take many suits and shirts, the clothing manufacturer explained, under the baggage restriction of fifty-five pounds. On the other hand, you don't need many if you're coming back on the same plane.

Even Get to the Riviera.

He and Stuart left Chicago Tuesday, June 27, by United Air Lines plane and departed from New York on the Clipper next day—or one week ago today. They had time enough for a day and a half on the Riviera.

The Clipper landed yesterday at Port Washington, Long Island, after flying from Marseilles, France, in 34 hours and 27 minutes. Stepping off at 7:49 a. m., Cresap and McVittie caught a plane at Newark and were back in Chicago at 2 p. m. Stuart remained in New York.

ENERGETIC MISS WINS BABY SHOW, BREAKS UP PRIZE

The second annual healthy baby contest in Fuller park, a headline event of the Independence day program, resulted in another feminine victory yesterday. After twelve eliminations in a field of 208 entrants, the judges, four physicians from the board of health, gave the trophy to Sheila Kerwin, a dark eyed, curly headed miss of 2 years and 4 months. In a burst of enthusiasm the dimpled and lively winner broke the statuette she won before officials had a chance to make the formal presentation.

It was a close contest between Sheila and red headed Tommy Winters, 9 months old. Sheila's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Kerwin, 4753 South Wells street, and Tommy's are Mr. and Mrs. John Winters, 5210 Carpenter street. Tommy was one of twelve blue ribbon babies named to the corps of honor. Fourth of July festivities in Pottawattomie park included a children's dolly buggy parade.

CALLS FOR END OF JOB TIEUP AT SCHOOL PROJECT

Architect to Prod Bonding Company Today.

John C. Christensen, architect for the board of education said yesterday he would take action today if the undeclared strike on the $3,150,000 vocational school building to be erected at 87th street and Chappel avenue is not settled. He said action would mean calling on the bonding company which guaranteed the performance of the masonry contract awarded the William R. Goss company, which bid $947,000 for the job.

The stone to be supplied and set by the Goss company should have been delivered some time ago, Christensen said. The delay is said to result from objections by the Building Trades council to Goss' plan of having the stone cut and trimmed in Indiana, where it is quarried.

Union Seeks Work.

Members of the Chicago local of the stone cutters' union, most of whom are said to be on relief, want the work performed here. According to school officials the union claims there is work for at least fifty stone cutters for five months on this school and is insistent, through the union council, that the work be given to Chicago men.

The Public Works administration, which is paying 45 per cent of the cost of the school building, has not intervened in the conflict, Christensen said.

President James B. McCahey of the school board is said to fear that the PWA grant will be withdrawn if there is any delay in the work.

First Bids Thrown Out.

"We threw out the first bids on the masonry work for this vocational school," said Christensen. "Too much delay would be occasioned now by canceling Mr. Goss' contract and asking for new bids. He agreed to avoid any jurisdictional strikes in subletting any portion of his contract.

"It is up to him to fulfill his contract. He will be given forty-eight hours to do so."

Christensen said that Goss told him last week that he expected to end the dispute this morning. Goss could not be reached by telephone yesterday, but it was learned that he has arranged a conference for this morning with the Indiana companies with which he is dealing.

REP. HARRY GRISWOLD OF WISCONSIN DIES IN HIS AUTO IN CAPITAL

Washington, D. C., July 4.—[Special.]—Representative Harry W. Griswold [R., Wis.] died in his automobile when stopped at a downtown street intersection here this afternoon. He was 53 years old.

Representative Griswold was accompanied by Mrs. Griswold and their daughter, Mary, the eldest of four daughters and a son.

Representative Griswold was serving his first term in congress. In 1930 he was made a member of the state board of vocational education. In 1932 he was elected to the state senate and remained a member of the board until the close of his second senate term in 1936. His home was on the farm near West Salem, Wis., where he was born.

YOUTH CONGRESS DENOUNCES ALL DICTATORSHIPS

New York, July 4.—(AP)—The American Youth Congress today unanimously adopted a resolution denouncing "all forms of dictatorship, regardless of whether they be communist, Nazi, or any other type."

Passage of the resolution reversed a loud voice vote by which the congress yesterday rejected an amendment to its creed condemning communism along with Fascism and Nazism, and caused representatives of twenty-three of the 135 organizations in the conclave to bolt the meeting.

In its denunciation of dictatorships the congress made no direct attack on communism itself, as demanded by fifty-six New York state legislators, but declared its ranks open to all "who are willing to abide by the principles of democratic procedure." Commenting on this, Gilbert Green of the Young Communist league said his group favored the resolution because "communism doesn't stand for dictatorship."

Jack McMichael of the National Intercollegiate Christian council of Atlanta, Ga., was elected chairman, succeeding William D. Hinckley of St. Joseph, Mo.

Joseph Cadden of New York was reelected executive secretary, and Harriet Pickens of the National Business and Professional council of the Y. W. C. A. was named treasurer.

VICTIM OF FALL DIES.

Injured in a fall two weeks ago, Joseph Starcala, 74 years old, died yesterday in the County hospital. He lived at 3132 South Throop street.

COL. M'CORMICK WARNS AMERICA OF RED WAR PLOT

Publisher Urges Battle to Keep Nation Free.

Col. Robert R. McCormick warned the American people yesterday of a plot to embroil the nation in another European war. The conspirators, he said, seek to scrap the constitution and supplant it with the terrorism and communism of Russia.

Col. McCormick, publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, spoke at the Fourth of July celebration of the Du Page County Centennial association in Maple Grove forest preserve, west of Downers Grove.

The celebration opened with a parade of Illinois National Guard forces.

Among those on the speakers' stand were Commander Edward Clamage of the Illinois American Legion, Commander Malcolm Seely of the Du Page County Veterans of Foreign Wars, Commander Earl Pruess of the Du Page County American Legion, President Nicholas W. Lies of the centennial association, and Mayor Carlysle Stair of Downers Grove. L. L. Meyer presided.

Judge Win G. Knoch of Naperville introduced Col. McCormick. Judge Knoch termed the publisher the "champion and defender of the liberty and freedom of America."

Text of Address.

The text of Col. McCormick's speech follows:

"As we celebrate the one hundredth year of Du Page county and the one hundred and sixty-third anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, let us remember that our forebears came to this continent refugees, escaping religious persecution and political oppression; that they were followed by swarms of officers and standing armies; were taxed without their consent—denied in many cases the benefit of trial by jury—and punished by prejudiced officials in tribunals unknown to their common law.

"Eventually they rose in revolt, drove out the royal governors, organized an army, and ejected the redcoats from Boston.

"It was while awaiting a new invasion that delegates from the several colonies met at Philadelphia, and resolved that the colonies had become free and independent states.

Action Taken None Too Soon.

"This bold and concerted action was taken none too soon. The American army was defeated on Long Island, destroyed at Fort Washington, and its remnants driven across New Jersey. They were rallied by the heroic Washington on Christmas day to the victories of Trenton and Princeton, and found refuge on the impregnable heights of Morristown.

"Further catastrophies followed. Arnold was driven from Quebec, Washington was defeated at Brandywine and Germantown, but afterwards the Continental army was forged to steel in the horrors of Valley Forge.

"Now the tide of battle changed. Burgoyne was defeated by Morgan and Arnold at Saratoga, and surrendered to General Gates under terms that blackened the latter's character forever. Clinton was forced to retreat from Philadelphia to New York, escaping destruction only through the treason of General Charles Lee.

"Defeated in the field, the enemy resorted to treachery. Arnold, the hero of Saratoga, was tempted to betray the key position of our armies at West Point. Fortunately fortune betrayed the betrayers. Arnold fled for his life, but the tempter, Andree, was caught and hanged.

Traitors Use Patriotic Cloak.

"It is well to remember that this betrayal was represented by its perpetrators as an act of patriotism to reunite the colonies with the homeland; to repeat on this continent the action of General Monk in calling back King Charles II. to replace the commonwealth of England.

"While the conspiracy of Andree and Arnold failed miserably, the idea has never entirely died. The true interests of this Republic have been subordinated time and time again to those of the kingdom from which it separated itself by the revolutionary war.

"In the year 1845, the Ashburton treaty was in the terms of its father "floated through the United States Senate on a sea of champagne."

"At a more recent date, the Hay-Pauncefote treaty sought to divest this country of sovereignty over the Panama Canal, but this time the senate would not accept the betrayal.

"The open door policy in China, and all of the other treaties concerning that side of the world, are mere instruments to reduce this country to military and diplomatic vassalage.

In Midst of New Conspiracy.

"I was a witness to the conspiracy which would have placed the American army in France under foreign command, so that this country would have no standing at the peace conference. The army resisted this usurpation, but the national interests were totally ignored at Versailles and the stage was set for another European war.

"And now we are in the middle of a conspiracy to throw this country into that war, and the conspirators are in partnership with a conspiracy far greater and far more dangerous to our national welfare—the conspiracy to scrap the Constitution of the United States and supplant it with the terrorism and communism of Russia.

"After our forefathers had consummated the Declaration of Independence by the capture of Cornwallis' army at Yorktown, they established the constitution so well described by Lincoln sixty-four years ago today as the 'Government of the people, by the people, for the people,' and by the statesman William Gladstone as 'The most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man.'

"So perfect was this instrument that it was accepted as a model by all of the states—first the original 13 states and in turn the other 35, the last being the state of Arizona in 1912.

49 Constitutions Differ Little.

"These 49 constitutions are practically identical, differing only in minor matters and in detail. While the laws of our states vary widely, [the states which were originally French or Spanish retaining much of their old law] the fundamental rights of citizens are found in the constitutions of all of them.

"It was for more than a hundred years the inspiration of all the world. In its image, representative institutions were set up almost everywhere, and the rights of men for the first time rose above the rights and idiosyncracies of rulers.

"So clearly right did our form of government appear, so general was its acceptance, that the teachings of its great founders, of Patrick Henry, George Mason, Samuel Adams, and Thomas Jefferson, fell into disuse as newer generations sought to explore the sciences and bring them, as well as the free continent, to the service of mankind.

Fail to Teach Newcomers.

"Nor were these teachings taught to the citizens of Europe who were freely invited to our shores, under the belief that they would recognize the excellence of our institutions and join with us in their perpetuation. This hope has been realized for the greater part, but not in entirety. There have been those who, after leaving the poverty and oppression by the aristocracy in their old homes, have looked upon the earlier settlers who had achieved prosperity as a new world aristocracy.

"Some of these newcomers became victims of the preachings of Karl Marx, and his philosophy—as baneful as that of Belial—and were led to such crimes of violence, as the bombing of the Haymarket in Chicago in 1886 and the bombing of the Preparedness Parade in San Francisco in 1916. Shocking as were these crimes, they were, in size, mere police matters.

"It was not until the ignorant people of Russia had been led to their revolution and massacres that organized attempts began to overthrow the government of the United States.

Communism Threatens Nation.

"Communism was making all Europe a battleground. In Italy and in Germany it was only resisted by the dangerous innoculation of Fascism [whereby representative institutions and the rights of individuals have been destroyed], a condition terrible to our thought, but compare it with communism where in addition to loss of liberty millions have been massacred and other millions exiled to starvation and freezing in the Siberian arctic; millions massacred—including every doctor, every lawyer, every engineer, every farmer who owned a horse or a cow.

"It is communism. That is the conspiracy which we have today, working with the other conspiracy to engage us in European wars, so that our constitution may be overthrown, our liberties destroyed, and our people enslaved and massacred.

"Communism made its first attempt to overthrow our republic in 1919.

Reds Call Chicagoland Strike.

"In accordance with its well laid plan, the Russian general staff called a strike in the steel mills south of Chicago, calculating that it could use the ensuing disorders to block the railroad network passing by the southern end of Lake Michigan, disrupt the transportation system of the country, force factories to close, throw workers out of employment, and cause misery and riots which could be turned into a revolution.

"This first effort was so firmly and tactfully suppressed by Gen. Leonard Wood with whose staff I was serving at the time, as to cause little alarm. Other crimes committed in connection with this disorder again did not exceed police scope nor cause general apprehension.

"The conspiracy went underground again. Little is known of its progress for fifteen years, but it is history that the La Follettes made their pilgrimage to Moscow in 1923, met the leaders of the Russian terrorism, and learned from them the technique of revolution.

"Ten years later Maxim Litvinov came to this country, held secret meetings with political leaders and obtained diplomatic recognition of his bloodsthirsty government.

Second Outbreaks in Wisconsin.

"The second revolutionary outbreaks were staged in Wisconsin, where the soil had been carefully prepared; where the Russian propaganda of envy, hatred, and malice had become the language of the self-styled Progressives. Mobs were supported by the authorities; witnesses to political murders in an adjoining state were given asylum and saved from extradition; industries were shut down and driven from the state; and the revolutionists exulted, as the disruption of industry, under the pretense of labor controversies, was their plan.

"Two years later, when the governorships of several states, embracing the command of the military, had fallen into the hands of traitors, the long maturing plans to overthrow our republic were put into nation-wide effect.

"The methods which had worked so successfully in Russia, and which had led to Fascism in Italy and Germany, were called forth in a series of undeclared civil wars.

Besiege Factories and Cities.

"Organized bands of communists declared strikes in factories where they worked, or where they did not work, closed them, blockaded them, occupied them, throwing the law-abiding and industrious workmen out of employment. Trained armies of communists marched across state lines, occupied and besieged whole cities, and were frequently supported by the armed forces of the traitor governors.

"The United States mails were placed at the disposal of the private armies and withheld from American citizens.

"It is one of the greatest phenomena of history that the American people, unorganized against a thoroughly organized and determined foe, betrayed by their own governors and their own government, remained steadfast, resisted the revolution, and successfully defeated their betrayers in the election of 1938.

"It is because of this defeat that the communists are now conspiring to put us into a European war, so that war powers may accomplish what the police powers are not strong enough to do.

Celebrate Partial Victory.

"So, here we are, meeting on the Fourth of July, celebrating the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, celebrating the anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg speech, celebrating the 100th anniversary of Du Page county, and celebrating our partial success in resisting the communistic civil war.

"As I look out among you, do I not see refugees? Have not many of you come to live in these suburban towns to avoid political conditions you have not been able to overcome? Have you not come to put your children in schools you can control? To take your children away from associations which contaminate, that you might go to work without fear that criminals will prey upon your women and children while you are away, that they will be beyond the fury of mobs infuriated by rabid speech and led by trained revolutionists? You know you have.

"Does it occur to you that you are living in a fool's paradise? That the communists are craftily leaving you in your peaceful semi-pastoral lives, while they forge a political and criminal machine strong enough to destroy you?

Salvation Lies in Resistance.

"And have you been suffered to depart in peace? You have not. Escaped gangsters from St. Charles already roam this countryside and terrorize our people. Professional criminals thrust gambling machines into our midst, protected in a nearby county by a corrupt judge. Violence and assassination have begun to show their heads. Swarms of officers are ordering what we shall grow and what we shall not grow on our farms. Tribunals unknown to our common law threaten us with prison without trial by jury.

"My friends, you can no more escape from criminality, from oppression, from tyranny than could your forebears. It will follow you and force war upon you. Your only salvation lies in effective resistance. Let us begin that resistance today by reiterating the Declaration of Independence. Let us dedicate ourselves again to our constitution. Let us organize for defense of our freedom and our firesides, or we will fall where all of our predecessors have succeeded—and the government of the people, by the people, for the people will perish from this earth."

WARNS TEACHERS OF REVOLUTION BY BANKRUPTCY

Rep. Mason Lays Plot to Communists.

San Francisco, Cal., July 4.—(AP)—The spectre of an America bankrupt by communists or lost through destruction of fundamental rights was drawn across the stage of the National Education association tonight by congressional leaders.

Representative Noah Mason [R., Ill.] and Senator Elbert D. Thomas [D., Utah] addressed the annual convention of the assoviation.

Representative Mason said the objectives of American Reds are to destroy the party in power and bankrupt the nation so that a receiver will then be required, the receiver to be "the highly organized, militant, small group known as communists."

Tells of Reds on Key Jobs.

Representative Mason said the WPA federal theater project in New York City is dominated by communist members of the Workers Alliance, and contended communists occupy key positions in government. "The department of labor is honeycombed with them," he said, "and you will find them on the payroll of the labor relations board and the wage and hour law set-up."

American Rule Called a Marvel.

Senator Thomas said that democracy hangs on the thin thread of common consent. He added:

"Take away from the American government the civil liberties guaranteed its citizens and we destroy the greatest blessing ever given to men. The marvel of history is that our experiment has worked as well as it has."

Amy H. Hinrichs of New Orleans today was nominated without opposition for the presidency of the National Teachers group of the N. E. A.

BODY RECOVERED FROM LAKE.

The body of a man about 40 years old, believed to be that of a sailor, was recovered last night from the lake near East Ninety-eighth street by coast guardsmen.

AMERICAN FREEDOM HAILED BY HOOVER IN WINNETKA TALK

Former President Herbert Hoover spoke yesterday at a fourth of July celebration in Winnetka. He said that the United States is the only nation in which communities have an opportunity to celebrate their independence and liberty.

Hoover arrived in Chicago by train from California. He will make a radio talk from station WENR at 8 o'clock tonight on the subject, "Shall We Send Our Youth to War?"

The former president is a guest of Arch W. Shaw of 50 Locust road, Winnetka.

WOMAN CHARGES $2,500 SWINDLE; SUSPECT HELD

Miss Eleanor Marmon, 45 years old, 2108 North avenue, reported to the Hudson avenue police yesterday that two men and a woman had defrauded her of $2,500. The swindlers, she said, persuaded her to withdraw the money from a bank on the pretext they were going to sell her a profitable tavern, but fled after they got the currency into their hands. A suspect, Louis E. Downer of 7051 Ogles by avenue, was arrested by Detectives John Curtain and George Malican. They said Miss Marmon identified him by a picture as one of those in the plot. She will view him in person today. Downer has been arrested several times on similar charges.

A Celebrator Has No Punk, but His Punk Idea's a Bang

Elk City, Okla., July 4.—(AP)—Whitey Long had no punk, so he lighted a firecracker with a cigaret. He absent mindedly tossed away the cigaret and stuck the firecracker in his mouth. The explosion blew out one of his teeth and lacerated his lips.

3D FIRE IN YEAR DAMAGES DAIRY BARN AT PRISON

Fire destroyed part of the roof of the big dairy barn at Stateville prison near Joliet last night. A hundred trusty prisoners, fifty guards, the prison fire department, and Lockport firemen battled the stubborn flames for two hours.

Lockport firemen reported that it was the third time in a year that the barn had caught fire. It was believed, however, that last night's blaze resulted from spontaneous combustion of new hay recently stowed there. The barn is the home of the prison's 150 cows which supply all the milk for the institution.

4 Nebraska Young Folk Killed in Auto Collision

Lincoln, Neb., July 4.—(AP)—Four young people were killed in an automobile-truck crash near here while returning home from a holiday eve dance early today. A heavy fog hung over the countryside at the time. Three of the bodies were burned almost beyond recognition. The victims were identified as Alvin Schmieding, 23, Garland, Neb., and Patricia Francis, 23, Florence Bass, 22, and Albert Drbal, 23, all of Lincoln. Schmieding was driving the car. The truck driver, Earl McKay of Fairbury, Neb., was unhurt.

TWO ARE KILLED AND 2 HURT AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Wreckage of Auto Hurled 80 Feet Into Prairie.

A Grand Trunk railroad train struck an automobile on the grade crossing at 142d street and Western avenue yesterday. Two men were killed and two women were injured, one perhaps fatally. The deaths were the first Fourth of July automobile fatalities in the Chicago area.

Arrow shows Grand Trunk crossing in Dixmoor and Posen.

They raised to forty-one the toll taken by Grand Trunk trains in the Harvey, Blue Island and Dixmoor area since Jan. 1, 1931. The accident occurred on the dividing line between Dixmoor and Posen. Efforts to have the tracks raised or depressed there have failed. The railroad installed warning signals after serious accidents in 1931 and 1934.

Driver Killed in Crash.

Those killed yesterday were Joseph Los, 37 years old, 1036 North Paulina street, the driver, and Walter Jamroz, 33, of 1065 North Wood street. Miss Anna Zipka, 30, of 928 Willard court, was critically injured, and Miss Jeanette Jadrychouski, 19, of Flint, Mich., was slightly injured. The four were on their way to Cedar Lake, Ind. The train hurled the car eighty feet into a prairie.

Edward Fisher, 21, son of Dr. Hart E. Fisher, secretary of the National Safety council, was killed yesterday when his car overturned on the highway near Ludington, Mich. The Fishers, who live at 4220 North Paulina street, have a summer home near there. Dr. Fisher is chief surgeon for the Chicago Rapid Transit company and the North Shore and South Shore lines.

John Skoden, 58, of 4744 Wood street, died in County hospital of injuries incurred Friday when he was struck by an automobile in front of 4729 South Damen avenue.

Three Killed in New Mexico.

Three Chicagoans were killed and one was injured yesterday in an automobile accident near Alamogordo, N. M., according to dispatches from the Associated Press. Those killed were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marx, both about 60 years old, and their daughter, Mrs. Eva Joerger, 38. John Schmidt was injured. Their addresses were not obtained. Schmidt said the car plunged over a bluff and fell 100 feet into a mountain canyon.

7 Injured in Crash.

Seven persons were injured, one probably fatally, last night when an auto ran up on the curb at 63d street and St. Lawrence avenue after a collision. David Rosenberg, 38 years old, 1845 West 47th street, was the driver of one auto and Leo Newberger, 25, of 7445 Phillips avenue, of the other.

Rosenberg's car climbed the curb on the northeast corner and as it overturned pinned under it Martin Foley, 39, of 8050 Justine street. Foley suffered a broken back and internal injuries. Another pedestrian struck was James Hanrahan, 5757 South Union avenue. Rosenberg and his wife and a passenger in their car, Henry Krueger, 3809 North Kilbourn avenue, and Newberger's wife, Faye, also were injured.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 409 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 317 were killed in Chicago, where 10,453 were injured in the same period.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1939 Trafic Toll

More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

School Boy Vanishes After Speeding Arrest Bares Theft

Gerard Marschner, 16 years old, was driving a party of high school pupils through Lake Bluff yesterday when he was arrested for speeding. Police were investigating his license number when Marschner vanished. It was then discovered that the plates were stolen. The police accordingly began a search for Marschner, who lives at 6100 North Talman avenue.

GERMANY TO GET GERMANS LIVING IN SOUTH TYROL

Drafts Pact with Italy for Mass Repatriation.

BERLIN, July 4.—(AP)—The German and Italian governments are working out plans for the wholesale removal of all inhabitants of German extraction who care to go from Italian South Tyrol to Germany, thus liquidating perhaps forever any German claim on that region.

Foreign office officials said they expected that thousands of persons would take advantage of the offer.

Germany estimates that about 200,000 Germans were in South Tyrol when it was sliced off the old Austro-Hungarian empire and given to Italy by the treaty of St. Germain at the close of the world war.

Some are German citizens. Others have been forced to become Italian citizens through Italian efforts to efface traces of one-time German ownership.

Italy Waives Claims.

Details of the Nazi-Fascist accord are not yet fully completed, but it was said they would include Italy's waiving of all citizenship claims on those who elect to go to Germany.

Individuals began moving their homes to Germany after it appeared clear that political collaboration of Germany and Italy precluded any chance of the territory returning to Germany within the near future.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 Germans were said to have returned already and to have found no difficulty getting work because of an acute labor shortage in Germany.

The movement became noticeable after Reichsfuehrer Hitler's visit to Premier Mussolini in May, 1938.

Hitler Gives up Area.

The fuehrer at that time turned to Il Duce during a brilliant banquet in the Plazzo Vanezia and solemnly foreswore all claims on the region, which previously had been a bone of contention.

Many Germans in South Tyrol expressed themselves as disappointed.

Placing this emigration on an organized basis with the active help of both governments, thus making it easier for any one who wishes to live within greater Germany, was said to be the object of the present negotiations.

"It is being undertaken in the spirit of mutual confidence that marks the axis," a foreign office spokesman said.

[In pre-axis days Mussolini said the Teutonic Tyroleans were merely "the residue of barbarian invasions," but since the development of the axis Italian officials have dropped references to the "barbarians from the north."]

The present step was regarded by Nazis as concrete evidence that Hitler meant what he said when he renounced claims on South Tyrol, and as "further proof to all who wish to know that Germany and Italy are allied in a spirit that enables them to settle their differences in a peaceful way."

BRITISH-RUSSIAN WAR PACT PLANS STRIKE NEW SNAG

Reds Balk at Protecting Dutch and Swiss.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 4.—British negotiations with soviet Russia for the erection of an iron front against further German expansion in Europe entered a new deadlock tonight.

Despite more than 100 days of quibbling between London and Moscow, the two sides are far away from an agreement on the proposed British-French-soviet Russian mutual assistance pact. Furthermore, the diplomatic poker game appears likely to drag on indefinitely.

Encounters New Obstacles.

After the cabinet's foreign affairs committee met twice in the house of commons to examine Dictator Josef Stalin's reply to the latest British proposals—which were said to involve concessions to soviet demands—diplomatic circles admitted further obstacles had been encountered. They described optimistic forecasts that an agreement was in sight as unfounded.

News that a new deadlock had developed followed reports, attributed to soviet circles, that an agreement on all main points of the pact had been reached. These reports filled London with such enthusiasm that stock market prices in London and Paris began rising.

It was said the new obstacles between London and Moscow involve guarantees to the Netherlands and Switzerland similar to those which Britain and France, under heavy pressure from Moscow, are said to have agreed to extend to Latvia, Finland, and Estonia despite the fact that none of these countries want them. Only yesterday the Dutch government protested it had not been consulted and that it had not asked for any guarantee against aggression under the proposed British-French-soviet pact.

Situation Is Obscure from Moscow.

Details of the report transmitted to London from Moscow last night by Ambassador Sir William Seeds after an interview with Vyacheslav Molotov, soviet premier and foreign commissar, were not disclosed.

The situation is obscure. However, diplomatic circles suggested that Moscow apparently is trying to maneuver the British into pledging support to the soviet union in preserving the independence of the Baltic states while fighting shy of extending reciprocal guarantees to cover British and French "vital interests," meaning the Netherlands and Switzerland.

Soviet circles contended that the latest hitch was manufactured by the Chamberlain government in raising the question of protecting the Dutch and Swiss against aggression, since neither of these countries maintains diplomatic relations with Russia.

The British position will be reviewed again at a meeting of the cabinet tomorrow, when it is anticipated that new instructions will be sent to Ambassador Seeds on the British reply to Stalin.

At today's session of the foreign affairs committee, the ministers were reported to have considered proposing to Moscow the conclusion of a three power mutual assistance treaty operating only in the event of direct aggression upon one of the signatories and leaving for subsequent negotiation the question of action in the event of indirect aggression.

Diplomatic experts pointed out that this apparently would permit the soviet union to remain neutral if it desired in any conflict arising from an attack on a neighbor state, such as Poland. The experts added such a proposal obviously would be less advantageous to British interests.

Without separate agreements among Russia, Poland and Rumania, they said that Poland and Rumania could not rely on support and supplies from Russia while Britain and France wolud find it difficult geographically to fill the gap.

In contrast to the pessimistic view in British quarters, soviet circles were optimistic. They suggested that despite the British desire for extending guarantees to the Netherlands and Switzerland, some arrangement eventally might be made to include Turkey, Greece, Rumania, Poland, Latvia, Estonia, Finland and Belgium in a British-French-soviet pact.

FRENCH ARMY OFFICER + 2 BLONDES + WAR SECRETS = SPY DRAMA

GRENOBLE, France, July 4.—(AP)—A young French army officer and a blonde Italian girl were held by special agents tonight for questioning after the flight of another Italian girl across the frontier with what was believed to be a suitcase full of French defense secrets.

The story, as pieced together by counterespionage agents, was like a spy thriller in the best fictional tradition. The girl who got away was described as a statuesque blonde of about 25 years with flashing black eyes. The authorities said an unsuspecting friend, a Genoble business man, was persuaded to drive her to the frontier. There, the business man recounted, an automobile awaited her and she dashed across the border into it, leaving him with a scornful smile.

The blonde who was held was believed by police to have been used as a decoy to make friends with young officers of a garrison who might have worthwhile military information. It was one of these officers, police said, who was arrested after the getaway of one of the two blondes.

SAYS BRITAIN AND FRANCE READY TO DIE AS COMRADES

PARIS, July 4.—(AP)—Leslie Hore-Belisha, British war secretary, declared tonight that Britain and France "understand completely the character of the challenge which is offered to us and will meet it, if need be, with decision."

Speaking at a France-Britain association dinner after a day spent conferring with the British ambassador to Paris, Sir Eric Phipps, and with French leaders, the visitor emphasized British-French collaboration.

"It would be the most mortal of errors for observers and still more for interested parties to make false deductions from the fact that circumstances have placed us upon the defensive," he said. "We have a complete interchange of information, knowledge, and experience. We live as comrades as, if need be, we shall die."

Monument to Washington Is Unveiled in Budapest

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 4.—Dedication of a monument to George Washington took place here today. Howard K. Travers, first secretary of the American legation, unveiled the memorial. He drew a parallel between the American and Hungarian nations, which, he said, had many traits in common, notably their passion for independence.

AMERICA'S OLDEST TIMEPIECE

By CALEB

IN our Wabash display window nearest Washington is a curious circular object with a fascinating story behind it—

How long ago the story started, historians do not know for a certainty. The luminous finger of research has not yet probed that far back. They do know, however, that all through the peaks, plateaus and valleys of Mexico and Yucatan, during the first millenium A D., flourished a lost civilization whose wealth, culture, arts and architecture were the marvel of their subsequent conquerors.

First established by the Toltecs, this lost civilization reached its height of strength, beauty, riches and supremacy under the succeeding Aztecs—whose last and most magnificent emperor, Montezuma II, met his overthrow at the hands of Cortez in 1519. . . .

And the circular object in our Wabash-Washington window? It is a miniature replica of the "Aztec Calendar Stone" . . . credited as being in use some fifteen centuries ago, by the aborigines of that mysterious expanse to the far south whose enigmas are still the puzzle of archaeology. On this stone—the original of which was twelve feet across—was delineated a year of 365¼ days, divided into eighteen months of twenty days each. Five holidays additional were observed yearly, and in every fifth year a sixth holiday was interpolated, to smooth out the chronology-wrinkle created by the one-quarter of a day.

Against the reach and changes of fifteen centuries, this oldest timepiece, used by the copper-skinned emperors, warriors, priests, merchants and citizenry of a thousand years before Columbus, thrills the stolidest imagination. And by the same token, what, we ask ourselves, would be the awe-struck wonder of some onyx-eyed, guttural-tongued Aztec, if he could be one of today's gazers and be made to understand the function of our own tiny, gold-steel-and-crystal meters of Time's passage? Would he not be as astonished at modern inventive science as we are at his own knowledge of mathematics and astronomy? . . .

Every glory of the Past, in masterpieces like the "Calendar Stone," increases one's respect for the accomplishments of his predecessors. Perhaps the superfine timepieces we now sell as a matter of course will some day excite a similar admiration among observers of the centuries-distant Future.

LEAGUE'S AGENT AT DANZIG MAKES PLEA FOR PEACE

Urges All to Exert Every Effort to Avoid War.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, July 4.—(AP)—Dr. Karl Burckhardt, the Swiss scholar who is the league of nations referee in the German-Polish sparring over Danzig, today said men of good will everywhere must combine their talent to preserve peace.

Dr. Karl Burckhardt.

"The highest duty of every one in these serious hours is to exert every effort to save peace, and with good will it can be done," he said in his office in a downtown mansion, where he studies every changing phase of the Danzig problem.

The Free City is under the protection of the league, which appointed Burckhardt high commissioner Feb. 10, 1937.

Delivers Three Statements.

Performing one of the most delicate political tasks in precariously balanced Europe, he said he was reluctant to make statements which could in any way compromise his usefulness as a mediator.

But he authorized these three statements in his behalf:

1. "The highest obligation of every one is to bend every effort to preserve peace.

2. "We must not exaggerate events in uneasy Danzig. Overstatement contributes unnecessarily to the tension of the moment.

3. "We must not draw isolated incidents out of their proper setting and attach undue importance to them. The problem should be considered as a whole without adding to the difficulties by magnifying some specific event or situation."

British Envoy Sees Moscicki.

WARSAW, Poland, July 4.—(AP)—The Polish ambassador to Britain, Count Edward Raczynski, conferred tonight with President Ignace Moscicki after returning from his London post. The conference deepened the belief of Poles that a French-British-Polish warning to Danzig might soon materialize.

It was regarded likely that Britain, France and Poland would seek to impress on the Danzig government that such steps as the reported militarization of the free city could not be tolerated.

A few hours before the president received Raczynski the "big five" council—Moscicki, Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, Premier Felicjan Slawoj Skladkowski, Vice President Eugenuisz Kwiatkowski and Foreign Minister Josef Beck—convened. The "big five" is assembled only on occasions of high importance.

SACHA GUITRY WEDS NEW LEADING LADY; HIS FOURTH MARRIAGE

VERSAILLES, France, July 4.—(AP)—Sacha Guitry, French actor and playwright, and his new leading lady, Genevieve de Serreville, were married today. It was Guitry's fourth marriage—each to an actress—and the bride's first. Crowds expecting the marriage were led on a chase after the couple through Paris suburbs yesterday. Guitry and his third wife, Jacqueline Delubac, were divorced on April 5. She, too, was once his leading lady.

BRITAIN REFUSES TO CEASE AIDING CHINA CURRENCY

Rejects Jap Demand for Aid to Own Bank.

LONDON, July 4.—(AP)—Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, said today the British government had no intention of complying with demands of Japanese spokesmen that it cease supporting Chinese currency.

Replying to a question in the house of commons, Sir John said:

"I see no reason to depart from the view that the stability of Chinese currency is of great importance from the point of view of British interests and other interests which have economic and financial relations with China."

[Two big British banks with government support subscribed half of a £10,000,000 ($46,800,0000) fund set up by the Chinese government last March to support the Chinese yuan, or dollar. In the Tientsin dispute between Britain and Japan Japanese spokesmen have insisted that Britain withdraw its support of the yuan and support instead the currency of the Japanese dominated federal reserve bank.]

Discuss Agenda of Parley.

TOKIO, July 4.—(AP)—Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, British ambassador, today discussed with Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita the agenda for negotiations on the dispute at Tientsin, where Japanese blockaded the British and French concessions on June 14.

Denies Aiding Guerrillas.

TIENTSIN, July 4.—(AP)—British Consul General Edward G. Jamieson said today a Japanese report that he had been in contact with Chinese guerrillas was a "preposterous lie."

Domei, the Japanese news agency, had quoted Japanese army officers as saying Jamieson had advance information on guerrilla plans 'o attack a Belgian-owned power plant which was raided Saturday night. The dispatch quoted the officers as saying they suspected British of supplying guerrillas with arms, ammunition and information on Japanese troop movements.

Residents of the British concession resolved to get along with tinned or powdered milk while it remains under the blockade which Japan imposed on June 14.

'Flash' Flood Sweeps 100 Houses from Foundations

Morehead, Ky., July 5 [Wednesday.]—(AP)—A "flash" flood inundated this eastern Kentucky mountain town of 2,500 and two near by villages shortly after midnight. W. W. Crutcher, Morehead postmaster, said "at least 100 houses" were swept from their foundations in Morehead. He had no report of any casualties. At 3 a. m., Crutcher said, the flood waters were receding.

THE LADY AND THE ROUGHNECK

SHE SAID SHYLY, "Couldn't I take a peek?" He said bashfully, "Er-r lady, you can try."

He was a roughneck, which is the regular name for a worker like him in the oil fields. She was a dear, with two little grandsons back East whose lips would round as she told of looking down the world's deepest hole . . . down well-nigh 3 miles . . . down the famed 15,004-foot Conoco oil well in California.

You too are invited to see it. Of course, as the lady knows now, you can't squint so awfully far down a 3-mile bore. But if you could only get a squint into the 3-inch bore of your motor car's cylinders! . . . if you could only watch patented Conoco Germ Processed oil give your engine wondrous OIL-PLATING! Then you'd see those precious working parts not merely oil-sploshed and oil-smeared but OIL-PLATED with a perfect skin-fit—as the bumpers are chrome-plated. Surely chrome-plating doesn't thin out, fry up, or drain down; and neither does OIL-PLATING. So it stays clear up to the cylinder head despite 400 or 500 miles a day; despite 4 or 5 hours' parking—and longer. PRESIDENT PINS HOPES FOR ARMS PLAN ON SENATE

Will Fight All Summer, He Tells Reporters.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., July 4.—President Roosevelt this afternoon announced that he is prepared to fight out the neutrality legislation question with congress if it takes all summer.

At an informal press conference after a picnic at his Val Kill property, the chief executive called upon the senate foreign relations committee to reverse the house modification of the administration's neutrality revision program.

The house last Friday voted for continuance of the mandatory arms embargo against belligerent nations. The administration had sought to give the White House power to determine how, when, and where embargoes should be instituted.

Pins Hope on Senate.

Mr. Roosevelt said he is prepared to see congress remain in session until September, if necessary, to force through the administration's program. He pinned his hopes on senate adoption of the administration plan and the carrying through of that scheme by a senate-house conference to iron out differences.

Mr. Roosevelt made his plea for his desired neutrality program on the eve of a scheduled meeting of the senate foreign relations committee to discuss neutrality legislation.

He asked for power to determine where American munitions shall go in the next war. He stood fast, he said, behind the recommendations sent to congress by Secretary of State Cordell Hull asking for the lifting of the mandatory embargo provisions of existing neutrality legislation.

Charge Plot to Aid British.

Some foreign affairs experts charge that the President is demanding the lifting of this provision so he can throw the resources of this country behind France and Britain in any altercation with the Rome-Berlin axis. In this connection he pointed out that there had been great rejoicing in Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy over the house defeat of the administration's neutrality objectives.

Mr. Roosevelt asserted that press dispatches from four major capitals stating that the house action had been welcomed in Fascist and Nazi nations were substantiated by reports to the state department. He indicated that he believed it true that the action had an unfavorable effect on the current European crisis, might bring war closer and would make it more difficult for this country to keep from being embroiled.

Mr. Roosevelt returned to his family home after the lawn party, where he packed his bags for his return to Washington. His special train left at midnight and was to arrive at 8:30 tomorrow morning, Chicago time.

FULTON COUNTY MAN DIES AT 74.

Peoria, Ill., July 4.—[Special.]—George W. Clark, 74 years old, native of Fulton county, died last night at his home near Mossville.

Corrigan to Wed

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]
ELIZABETH MARVIN.

San Francisco, Cal., July 4.—[Special.]—Douglas Corrigan, whose plans to marry were revealed last night by his fiancée in San Antonio, Tex., today told more details of his approaching wedding. The flyer, who flew the Atlantic "the wrong way" to Ireland, will be married at San Antonio on July 17, first anniversary of his flight. His bride, a childhood sweetheart, is Miss Elizabeth Marvin, a school teacher. Like Corrigan, she is 32 years old. After the wedding they will go on an aerial honeymoon.

TINKHAM HAILS PEACE HOPES IN NEUTRALITY VOTE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 4.—The house vote last Friday on the neutrality bill was hailed today by Representative George H. Tinkham [R., Mass.], member of the house committee on foreign affairs and consistent opponent of neutrality law revision, as another declaration of independence from foreign politics.

The action in voting a modified arms embargo instead of outright repeal of the existing arms embargo, as demanded by the administration, was interpreted by Tinkham as a decisive repudiation of President Roosevelt's interference in foreign affairs.

Now any neutrality revision at this session of congress appears doubtful. The senate foreign affairs committee meets tomorrow to consider the house bill and various other pending proposals to amend the neutrality act. The senate has been cold toward neutrality revision. Inasmuch as the house failed to give the administration its expected victory, there appears increasing chances that neutrality revision will be shelved for this session.

Fascist Party in Finland Suffers Election Reverse

HELSINGFORS, Finland, July 4.—(AP)—The patriotic national movement, which has strong Fascist tendencies, lost seven of its fourteen seats in parliament in week-end elections, returns showed tonight. The Finland government front registered slight gains.

700 BOSSES SKIM CREAM OFF WPA FUNDS IN INDIANA

High Salaries Revealed in Report to Congress.

Indiana WPA workers are bossed by an army of 700 administrators. The elite of this group, 344 high salaried executives, draw an annual aggregate salary of $685,160. Many receive as much as $275 a month. More than 150 are paid salaries ranging from $2,000 to the $8,000 annual stipend of John K. Jennings, state administrator.

The salaries paid these WPA officials were disclosed in reports submitted on June 1 to the national house of representatives' committee on appropriations. This year, for the first time, congress compelled the Work Projects administration to publish its pay rolls.

Prominent on Scandal List.

Indiana has played a prominent rôle in the series of state WPA scandals. It has been charged that many lucrative posts have gone to political appointees not in actual need of relief work. The official Indiana pay roll discloses that most of the juciest plums were distributed in Indianapolis, stronghold of the McNutt-McHale-Minton-Townsend political machine.

"Recent hearings before the appropriations committee," said Congressman Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, yesterday, "have shown clearly that entirely too large a share of the WPA money is going for administrative expenses. This deprives the needy unemployed of just that much relief.

Could Save $50,000 in One Area.

"It is interesting to note that the total salaries in one district are $52,720 a year. The Indiana WPA administrator found and reported that this district could be consolidated with another at a saving of $50,000 per year, and still improve the efficiency of the organization. How many similar cases are there over the country?

"We are confronted, as the table of high salaries discloses, with this situation: The administrative and supervisory employés, often appointed without regard to family need, are skimming millions of dollars a year off WPA funds which rightly should go to the needy unemployed of the several states."

Salaries Over $100 a Month.

PRE-MARRIAGE EXAMINATIONS

With separate departments for men and women, the Public Health Institute is especially well fitted to make the medical tests which the law requires every couple to have before a marriage license can be obtained. A thorough physical examination, including all necessary laboratory tests, costs $3.00 per person. Those examined before 2 P.M. (at 159 or 169 N. Dearborn St.) can have certificates same day.

HAPPY DAYS!

Don't miss out on them this summer because of a neglected venereal infection, but get relief from your doctor or this reliable clinic!

SUMMER is a season of happy days—days of motoring, swimming, hiking, baseball, golf and other outdoor activities. But they hold no joys for the man or woman who is being made physically and mentally miserable by neglected gonorrhea or syphilis!

Not only does neglecting a venereal infection deprive you of good times, but it may lead to disastrous consequences. Nearly every hospital and asylum has its share of those who made the tragic mistake of not getting proper venereal disease treatment in time!

For example, neglected syphilis may easily result in heart disease, the loss of sight or hearing, a stroke of paralysis or apoplexy, or a nervous breakdown that may end in insanity! And neglected gonorrhea may be the cause of a sight-destroying eye infection, crippling arthritis, stricture, sterility, or serious prostate, bladder, kidney and other troubles!

It's false economy!

It is the height of false economy to try to cure yourself of gonorrhea or syphilis. For the few dollars you save will have to be spent many times over when a dangerous complication finally forces you to go to a doctor!

True, self treatment may relieve your symptoms and cause you to feel as well as you ever did. Yet germs may continue to lurk in your system and lead to serious trouble later on! Only a skilled physician, with his scientific tests of cure, is in a position to prove that you are free from disease!

Therefore, take no chances with drug store remedies but hasten to secure proper medical attention, followed by dependable tests of cure! Such treatment and tests can be had from any competent private doctor, or you can get them inexpensively at the Public Health Institute.

The Public Health Institute has been specializing in gonorrhea and syphilis for almost 20 years. During that time it has given more than 5,000,000 examinations and treatments—your assurance of experienced medical attention!

No one refused aid!

Because tne Public Health Institute was organized by public-spirited citizens as a corporation "NOT-FOR-PROFIT" under the laws of the State of Illinois, it is able to provide the very best of venereal disease treatment at charges to fit the smallest income. The cost of a physical examination for gonorrhea and syphilis, including blood tests, urinalysis and gonorrheal smears, is surprisingly moderate, while individual treatments are available at fees so low that any employed person can readily pay them.

Nor does the Public Health Institute stop there in its efforts to make dependable venereal disease treatment available to the entire community. Even persons who are temporarily short of money can make arrangements to be cared for!

TWO-STATE TOUR REVEALS BRIGHT CROP PROSPECTS

Third Good Yield in Row for Indiana, Michigan.

BY HOMER NEISZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Huntington, Ind., July 4.—Farmers throughout southern Michigan and northeastern Indiana now have prospects for another good crop, the third in succession. A crop survey tour of more than 300 miles through the southern tier of Michigan counties and extending down through Fort Wayne, Ind., revealed good fields of corn and other crops all the way. The general outlook is bright and farmers are encouraged.

Farmers in Cass, St. Joseph, and Branch counties in Michigan say that corn is further advanced than they ever have seen it at this time of year. Much corn is waist high. Some is five to six feet tall and tasseling.

Pastures are considered excellent for this time of year. Many of them are green as in spring, although they usually begin drying up before the end of June.

Harvest Two Weeks Early.

Wheat ripened about two weeks earlier than usual this year in virtually all the territory covered. Most of the wheat is in the shock except fields that are to be harvested with combines. Yields on the whole are expected to be only fair, since much of the wheat sown early last fall was damaged by Hessian fly.

There is an abundant crop of hay, although recent rains have interfered with its harvesting. Most farmers have finished their first cutting of alfalfa and are starting to cut clover and timothy. Some have made their alfalfa into silage, not only to save the hay during rainy weather but to leave more acres of corn for grain.

About the only general complaint is on the oats crop. Most oats are short and yields are expected to be light. There are exceptions.

J. W. Bohm of Centerville, Mich., says the oats on his place and on some of his neighbors' farms will yield fifty bushels per acre—considered a good yield for that section. Bohm operates a 275 acre farm and says all his crops look good.

Drouth Injures Alfalfa.

Crops in Steuben county, Ind., where more alfalfa is said to be grown per farm than in any other county in the state, suffered considerably from drouth during May, but there have been plenty of rains since and crops are much improved. The first cutting of alfalfa was light, some fields making less than a ton to the acre. The second cutting is expected to be better. There are about 16,000 acres of alfalfa in the county.

Frank Walker, who operates a 537 acre farm in De Kalb county, Ind., near Waterloo, has 120 acres in corn which he thinks will average seventy-five bushels per acre if the weather remains favorable. He has fifty acres of wheat expected to average close to twenty bushels per acre.

About 3,000 acres of potatoes growing on muck soil in De Kalb county are expected to make an average yield of 150 bushels per acre.

WEALTH SHARING FOLK LORE.

Income is the significant measure of wealth. A man may possess unused property with a hypothetical value running to many figures without being able to derive any benefits from owning it. Many buyers of subdivision lots thus have found that what they thought was an asset turned out to be a liability.

When a radical urges that all wealth be divided he talks about sharing the assets which belong to the ultrawealthy, the millionaires. A millionaire is presumably a man whose net worth is at least a million dollars. But if a significant part of his possessions is sterile the sharing of his assets would prove disappointing. The realist, in any share the wealth movement, would divide up the millionaires' incomes.

It is often assumed that an approximation of the number of millionaires can be reached by the simple test of an annual income of $50,000. Little investigation is needed to show that this gives too big a number. Corporation executives and professional men with incomes exceeding $50,000 per year have died leaving estates of but a few thousand dollars.

But if we are after the millionaires, what does it matter if we include a few who have the annual income to qualify them but not the accumulated assets? So let us appropriate the incomes of all of our $50,000 a year men. And if some nonmillionaires are in the group it is just too bad for them. Let us equally share in the result. A government report published last year showed that of the national income of 59 billion 258 million dollars in the year 1935-'36 [beginning July 1 of one year and ending June 30 of the next] the millionaires [one with $50,000 or more per year] got 2 billion 4 million dollars, and the rest of us received the balance. That figures out to be 3.38 per cent to them and 96.62 per cent to us.

Now out of income we and they pay income taxes. Out of their 2 billion 4 million dollars they paid income taxes totaling 707 million 135 thousand dollars. And out of our income we paid the rest, or 507 million dollars. Thus they get 3.38 per cent of the income and pay 58 per cent of the taxes, and we get 96.41 per cent of the income and pay 42 per cent of the taxes.

After the government has taken out its tax there remains of the millionaires' income 1 billion 300 million dollars to be shared. That would be 20 cents a week for each of us if divided evenly—enough to pay for a letter each day to our congressmen protesting against the size of the distribution. So long as wealth sharing is confined to millionaires the yield to the average American would be a ticket to the movie every other week. To get as much as a dollar a week each it would be necessary to confiscate all of the income of people getting more than $10,000 per year.

The reason why any wealth sharing is bound to prove disappointing is that the largest part of the wealth is already divided, and little of the rest is of a nature which can be divided. The bureau of economic research of Notre Dame university in a recently published volume showed that 54 per cent of the wealth of the country consists of physical assets which are widely enjoyed. The largest item of these comfort goods consists of the houses in which we live and the land on which they are located. The next important item is our chattels, the household furniture, clothing, watches, and radios. That is followed by the public property, streets, schools, and parks. Farmhouses and live stock rank next, followed by automobiles.

Many of these items are used freely in common, and as for the others, the Notre Dame economists observe that "the supposedly wealthy person has little more than his proportionate share of comfort goods—he can sleep in only one bed, ride in only one automobile, listen to only one radio. Of course, he enjoys comforts of better quality and in larger amount, but, all in all, the comfort he enjoys is not much different from that of the average person."

So much for the 54 per cent of the wealth that represents comfort goods. The other 46 per cent of our wealth consists of physical assets used for production. The biggest item consists of the industrial and commercial buildings and equipment. The next largest group consists of farm lands, followed by the railroads and the utilities. None of these can be effectively divided up. Factories, farms, railroads, and utilities have value only when they are operated successfully. And they are operated successfully only because of the reward there is under capitalism for successful operation. In fact, the only major classification in the Notre Dame inventory of wealth which seems capable of distribution among us is the stock of monetary gold, and under the New Deal no one can have any of that at all.

The idea that wealth sharing is possible even if it is desirable is thus seen to be due to some misconceptions of what wealth is. It is customary to think of it as that which a man accumulates for his personal use and later distributes among his children for their exclusive benefit. Actually, the accumulation consists very little of comfort goods and very much of production goods. What the accumulator does is to forgo what enjoyment his money can buy so that there will be equipment to produce and distribute more goods in the future. Thus the private accumulation of wealth turns out actually to be provision for the future of people generally.

The situation then is this: The larger share of the wealth, the 54 per cent, is already divided among the people. The other 46 per cent is not divided and cannot be divided without destroying its effectiveness in serving the people generally. Those who are in control can be replaced. Mexico replaced experienced oil men with political favorites after private capital had developed the industry there. The result has been disastrous.

How to bring about a more equitable distribution of wealth has been the concern of politicians, reformers, agitators, dictators, the clergy, and the man on the street for centuries. The desirability of having more and more people share in the good things of life is unquestioned. But no one has been able to find a better way to promote that end result than by the system of free industry and private property as it used to prevail in the United States.

A TAX ON THE POOR.

The price of milk has just been raised in New York. That is the New Deal's present to the New York poor.

In March the federal court there threw out a New Deal milk control law in New York. Before the decision, when the control was operative, milk sold at 13¾ cents a quart. Shortly afterward the price dropped to 11 cents. The difference, 2¾ cents a quart, is the tax which the New Deal had imposed upon the consumers in New York. It was enough to deprive the children of the poor of their daily ration of fresh milk.

In June the Supreme court in Washington reversed the lower court. Now the New Deal controls are again operative and the price of milk has again been raised to 13 cents. We are in the period of maximum milk production, when an increase in price could be imposed only by artificial means. The New Deal has these means at its disposal and the tax on the poor has been reinstated.

This record may well be placed beside the President's oft-repeated claim that he is primarily interested in improving the lot of the ill-fated one-third of the population. That is what he says, but in New York as in all the other places where the New Deal has intervened in the milk business, the interference has meant higher prices and therefore less fresh milk for the poor.

If this deprivation worked a permanent improvement in the situation of the dairy farmers, they, at least, could approve it on selfish grounds. But in fact nobody benefits except the burocrats who get the jobs. The farmers exchange a brief temporary improvement for a permanent injury. The higher price for milk results in lessened consumption of bottled milk and that means larger surpluses of milk to be sold by the farmers at unprofitable prices to condenseries, ice cream manufacturers, creameries, etc. Cheaper raw material for the condenseries means cheaper canned and powdered milk in the stores and therefore a further decline in the sale of bottled milk. The farmers can't be prosperous while this condition exists. If their income is to be increased it must be by selling more bottled milk for which they get a premium price, not more surplus milk for which they get an unremunerative minimum price.

The New Deal milk controls are calculated to promote malnutrition among the children of the poor and the ruin of the dairy farmers as well. The recent price increase in New York will be echoed in Chicago if a federal control is instituted here.

THE RUSSIAN ALLIANCE.

Apparently Great Britain and Russia have every reason to pool forces on all fronts. Great Britain is near war with Japan in China. Russia is actually at war with Japan. Russia is Hitler's holy war enemy. Germany threatens to blow England off the globe. Italy is a nuisance and may be a danger along the British bread line.

The British have extended themselves by promises to defend various countries which a year ago could have gone to the dogs their own way without causing a ripple of interest in London. The backlog of these promises in the east of Europe would be Russia. Even if the soviets could not fight well they have masses. They could divert corresponding German and Italian masses. The disquiet of Hitler and Mussolini if the unknown quality of Russia were added to the strength opposing them is easily understood.

The French have done all they could to bring Russia in. Mr. Chamberlain seems unable to swallow the whole pill. Innately he recognizes the Russian alliance as the last bitter dose of necessity. It is wholly unpalatable. Our own government is much less squeamish. A kinship is recognized in Washington and Moscow. None is recognized in London. The comrades are the last people in the world with whom the British government would have dealings if desperation did not command.

Hitler might pipe down instantly if Chamberlain and Stalin came to an honest and reliable agreement, but even that probability cannot make the British smooth bargainers with the Russians. Maybe they'd rather be bombed by the Germans than be protected by the Reds.

WEIRD MARRIAGE.

[Akron Beacon-Journal.]

If the wooing reported in progress between the C. I. O. and the Townsend old age pension group proceeds to a successful conclusion, one of the weirdest political marriages of our time will have been consummated. Chief external evidence of a joining of forces came with the C. I. O. executive board's decision to work for a flat $60 a month pension for every one over 60 years of age, campaigning to be undertaken "in cooperation with old age and progressive groups." Significant for its implied criticism of the social security program of the C. I. O.'s former great and good friend, the New Deal, the resolution is given more particular meaning by reported behind-the-scenes conferences between Townsendites in congress and C. I. O. leaders.

The biggest gulf for the courtship to bridge is the method of financing. The C. I. O. $60 a month proposal is considerably less than Townsend's $200 a month objective, but it puts the two at least on speaking terms. However, whereas the Townsend plan would be paid for by a transactions tax falling with equal force on rich and poor, the C. I. O. favors industrial, estate, and gift levies as fiscal sources. The two solutions would seem to be irreconcilable, but they have one thing in common. The latter method might not freeze up the national economy quite as swiftly as the former, but it would have that effect eventually.

APPALLING PROSPECT.

Daughter dear, approaching two,
When I muse about how you
Wait beyond your bedtime for
Daddy to come in the door,
When I picture you aged three
Likewise waiting up for me—
What a future papa faces:
You and papa trading places!

Visiting Composer.

Arthur Bliss, distinguished English composer, arrived yesterday from Stockbridge, Mass., for a three day stay at the Moraine hotel in Highland Park, to hear two of his compositions played at Ravinia, Sir Adrian Boult conducting. A composer with a sense of humor who talks with his tongue in his cheek, he listed his own accomplishments as:

1. Composer of serious masterpieces.
2. Vital conductor of same. (He will be back to demonstrate this in 1940.)
3. Officer in Grenadier Guards, 1915-'18.
4. Amateur actor of Shavian comedies.
5. Adventurer—in the Byronic sense.

Composer Bliss' Introduction and Allegro was written for Stokowski. On tomorrow's Ravinia program is his music for Things to Come, written for the film of that title based on H. G. Wells' book, The Shape of Things to Come.

ALL RIGHT, PUZZLE FANS, HERE'S ANOTHER.

Fill in the dashes in the following paragraph. Each group of letters forms a word containing all the letters in the preceding word (but not necessarily in the same order), plus one additional letter.

As — see — — (while I — — — in my den, perusing Doc Byrne's contribution in the Provines province) Wrigley field is the proper — — — — for the fluttering championship flag. No matter how hard each of the other teams — — — — — (and, of course, all will — — — — — — earnestly), the Bruins must win. I assert only the truth (or — — — — — —, as Mussolini might style it) when I aver that the Cubs are truly far more — — — — — — — — in all departments of the great game than their present standing indicates. Most of my friends and — — — — — — — — agree with me in my belief that even now Gabby Hartnett's efforts to — — — — — — — — — the temporarily dormant team are being crowned with success. When fully — — — — — — — — — —, the Cubs, with their remarkable record for "coming from behind," may march on steadily to another championship.

Cycling Clubs of Yesteryear.

Dear Miss Provines:

Your informer about the cycling clubs of the nineties did not quite complete the job. Carter Harrison, then mayor, Ald. Jack Scully, Assistant Corporation Counsel Bill Arthur, Art Gardner, and Herb Mills were enthusiasts and joined Jim Levy, brother to Gov. Horner, in forming the Cook County Wheelmen Cycling club, under the colors of which this writer rode for the police department.

Other popular clubs were the Illinois Cycling, Thistle, Lincoln, Morse, Morgan and Wright, Pullman, Columbia, Lake View, Ravenswood, and the old Chicago Cycling. The goal of all cyclists was to enter the Wheeling, Pullman, or Elgin-Aurora races, and to make the race to Milwaukee and back, for which gold and silver medals were awarded. All members had to join the League of American Wheelmen, which was more important in the eighties and nineties than the American Automobile association is today.

As a policeman in charge of the cycle squad, it was my duty to arrest scorchers who endangered the lives of our citizens by going faster than fifteen miles an hour; and there was no "fix." The fine was based on the speed, starting with $16 for the sixteen mile an hour scorcher.

SWEDEN'S PRODUCTION INCREASED

BY MARTIN MARTELIUS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden.—The committee appointed some time ago to consider the effects of industrial rationalization in Sweden has just submitted its report. It is of the opinion that rationalization has materially added to the prosperity of Sweden during the last three years. Between the years 1924-'36 Swedish industry has increased 89 per cent while the number of employed workers has only been raised by 31 per cent, so that the production of a single worker has been greatly increased.

The committee considers that this increase is due to rationalization, and that any control of rationalization by the government would be a mistake. Were such a control to be exercised, the community would be responsible for the economical results of the management of an enterprise which had perhaps been refused the right to carry out certain measures of rationalization.

The committee also had under consideration plans for the lowering of the pensionable age, shortening of working hours, and restrictions of female labor. It considered it would be a mistake to lower the pensionable age, as it was always of benefit to a community if able bodied persons should take part in production. Neither did they consider it wise to limit the right of married women to work or to run industries.

REMOVING TATTOO MARKS.

TATTOO marks—often acquired when one's bump of caution has become flattened temporarily—may prove a source of embarrassment at some later period. The fashion of burning or pricking pigments into the skin dates from early Egyptian times, although the Old Testament forbade it [Leviticus xix:28]. For a time the procedure was utilized in the British army to designate deserters or bad characters, and the letters "D" and "BC" accompanied many a man through life. At one time the practice was forbidden among French soldiers and sailors. This followed the simultaneous infection of nine marines by a syphilitic operator who moistened his needles with saliva.

Every schoolboy is familiar with the dramatic scene in Cooper's "The Last of the Mohicans" in which the royal blood of a noble chief was disclosed because of the emblem emblazoned on his breast.

Just why any one—in these days—would choose to decorate the cuticle with initials, flags, portraits, etc., is difficult to understand. If resorted to as a disguise for nudism we need not be startled should a sharp revival of the custom burst upon us. As a means of identification, however, finger prints are far superior.

As a rule, the dye lies in the outer portions of the epidermis and the depth varies. We may liken the process to a powder burn in which fine fragments of carbon become imbedded in the covering of the body, presenting a grayish or pebbled appearance. Many a lad has been permanently disfigured through the premature explosion of a firecracker. After a scuffing injury, particles of dirt may be visible for months or even years.

How to eliminate these blemishes is a question that is brought to the physician frequently and certain heroic measures have been adopted, most of which result in inflammation, the shedding of tissue, and scar formation.

Among chemical methods, that proposed by Shie has given considerable success. First of all the area is cleansed thoroughly. Then come serial injections of a sterile 50 per cent solution of tannic acid which must reach the coloring matter. The design is surrounded with collodion to protect unaffected regions and a stick of silver nitrate [lunar caustic] is rubbed over the offending surface. In this way enough cells are destroyed so that a slough occurs—the outer layers separating and carrying away most of the eyesore. Occasionally it is advisable to prescribe a novocain-adrenalin mixture [local anesthetic] along with the tannic acid for the relief of pain.

In some circumstances surgery is demanded. If the figure is not too wide—long, narrow, elliptical incisions may be made one by one until the entire extent has been removed. The initial strip taken away is not broad enough to interfere with healing and the remaining skin stretches so that the edges may be stitched together accurately. After recovery another section is treated in the same manner and the plan is continued until the adornment has been banished. If extensive removal becomes necessary, skin grafts may be required.

Unfortunately, electrolysis—which is helpful in many other conditions—and exposure to the Finsen light [burning with ultraviolet] have failed for the most part to reach the deeper layers. With the light, particularly, a severe burn may be needed to produce peeling. But this rarely goes to the seat of the mutilation because it is not sufficiently penetrating. If tattoo inks were soluble in water the marks would fade rather quickly. Most of the pigments employed, however, are quite resistant to any solvent, hence the necessity of mechanical excision.

Our young friends should think twice before submitting to a branding operation which is never an exhibition of good taste. Furthermore, the risk involved should not be ignored.

DRINK MORE MILK.

J. M. E. writes: I am a man 30 years of age and am unable to gain weight. My appetite is good. My height is 5 feet 9 inches, weight 130 pounds. Will you please advise me if I lack some of the vitamins or what I may take to remedy this condition?

REPLY.

As long as you are feeling well why worry? Your build is probably a family characteristic. Be sure that you are employing a well balanced diet with plenty of rest. If you insist on increasing your poundage add a quart of milk to your daily menu. Take a pint at 10 a. m., another at 4 p. m.

OPEN AIR MAY HELP.

A. G. B. writes: When my mother goes visiting she becomes very nervous. The slightest trifle upsets her. Do you think she needs more fresh air? She is indoors most of the time. Her head shakes at times.

REPLY.

A careful physical checkup is advised. There may be some trouble with the thyroid or with the nervous system. Less cloister and more time spent in the open air may be helpful.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

RENT ARREARS.

Chicago, June 30.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A, a widow, fell behind in payment of rent to B. A has since left the city wherein she rented from B. Now, three years later, B, through an agency is attempting to collect the back rent though A hasn't the means to pay this. B has since sold the house which A rented from him.

1. Can B make any claim after the elapsed time of three years?
2. Does the sale of the house affect his claims?
3. Can B claim payment of A's two working children?
4. If B's claims are valid how could he force them, A's only assets being house furnishings?

A. F.

1. Yes.
2. No.
3. No.
4. He probably cannot collect on these facts.

TREES WITHER IN DUST BOWL.

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 1.—Regarding your recent Editorial of the Day from the Baltimore Evening Sun on dust bowl trees, I should be most happy to be informed where there are any trees planted in 1935 and 1936 that are 30 to 35 feet high, let alone in the "dust bowl!"

I happen to be a botanist who has studied the flora of Kansas for some twenty years. I am quite familiar with the Kansas part of the bowl both before it got that name and as recently as the early part of this month. I also have studied in the Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Colorado parts of the bowl, traversing it completely north to south this June and twice east to west.

East of the dust bowl in Kansas I did see a few shelterbelt plantations with central trees over 35 inches [not feet], some about 4.5 to 5 feet. In the dust bowl area itself the plantings that I saw did not exceed 35 centimeters high—more commonly about 10 centimeters [4 inches], and many dead.

It is true that a cottonwood 30 feet tall may be found in the dust bowl—a tree probably about forty or more years old in some man's yard or near a water hole in a protected spot in a river bend. If perchance this is Mr. Wallace's basis for stating that the great plains will grow a forest one should question where he learned his ecology!

Not expecting an answer to this impossible question, I remain

ENJOYS THE NATIONAL PARKS.

Kankakee, Ill., July 3. — I disagree emphatically with the criticisms H. M. F. wrote regarding the national park service. Regardless of his opinion of Secretary Ickes I do not see how any one who has visited our national parks is justified in writing in such manner as he did.

If private commercial interests owned the sites of the parks prices would be a good deal higher than under government supervision as at present. There are many kinds of accommodations offered and any one can suit his purse and get full money's worth.

The employés, especially the rangers and those who come in contact with the tourists, are unusually courteous and helpful.

If you like nature, if you enjoy magnificent scenery, if you will take the time to look and not rush through, then spend as much time as you can in any or all of our national parks. You will have the time of your life and it will cost much less than you expect.

CANADA THISTLE'S HABITS.

Chicago, June 30.—Prof. Charles J. Chamberlain writes correcting THE TRIBUNE for calling Canada thistle a perennial. He calls it a biennial.

Canada thistle, as most of us know, multiplies not only through its seed but also through its root system. These roots are found anywhere from the surface down to two or three feet deep. They make shoots and send up stalks and these stalks also bear seed the same as the 2 year old seedling plants. I have known of some infested patches of more than six or seven years' standing that have never been allowed to reseed.

So is the Canada thistle strictly a biennial then?

FAMILY BIBLE RECORDS.

Chicago, July 1.—I note that the senate in Springfield defeated a bill which would have allowed old age applicants to prove their age by giving a detailed description of how it was recorded in the family Bible. But many of those who will be entitled to this pension have no other records to which they can refer for the reason that back years ago such vital statistics were not always recorded, and naturally in sixty-five years court houses have been rebuilt and destroyed by fire, also records have faded, and I wonder if we have in our senate at Springfield some brainy individual big enough to introduce a bill covering such a circumstance. I believe that when the people find that the tax is being deducted from their pay check with not even a ghost of a chance of collecting an old age pension because of faulty records some of our representatives are going to have an awful time explaining to their constituents why they should be sent back to Springfield. Would some of our representatives advise what procedure should be taken to prove one's date of birth where vital records are not available?

WOMEN AS WAR AIR PILOTS.

Chicago, June 30.—I note by this morning's TRIBUNE that there is pending legislation authorizing a start this fall on the training of 95,000 youthful air pilots for peace or war.

I have written asking President Roosevelt to reconsider the above bill and amend it to include women in this training. I have always felt that women have a keener judgment and insight into impending danger, hence they will be an asset in case of war. This is a plea from one who will soon have a private pilot's license.

CANCER AND THE SHAKEDOWN.

Chicago, July 2.—My reaction to the complaint of the director of the Memorial Hospital for the Treatment of Cancer that its usefulness has been seriously curtailed by the racketeering of the New York Electrical Workers' union is that the subscribers should have had more sense than to build it in New York. Many industries are compelled to locate in New York and to pay tribute to the labor barons, beer barons, and political barons. The cancer hospital could just as well have been located in more honorable surroundings.

ADVICE TO THE INVENTOR.

Evanston, Ill., June 30.—I get a laugh out of "The Disappointed Inventor" who wrote you on June 18. Having been a licensed patent attorney for almost fifteen years, my answer to him is that he is absolutely wrong. Experience has shown a great many inventors that the surest way to lose everything is to attempt to manufacture and market one's own invention. The average "independent inventor" has neither capital nor sufficient business acumen to do the job right, and while he might be able to start a business, if his product is accepted the business will soon engulf him with its maze of business intricacies.

My recommendation to the inventor is that he make quite sure of the probable public demand for his device before he goes to the trouble of protecting it. Then let some experienced manufacturer have it upon a guaranteed minimum royalty. And lastly, don't forget that after all the manufacturer has the greatest expense—tools and dies, advertising, salesman's expense, etc., which greatly exceed the inventor's cost. No wonder the manufacturer wants the lion's share.

MANNERS VS. TIMBUCTOO.

Chicago, June 30.—I see where they're going to give the children in Istanbul, Turkey, a course of lessons in "Manners and Usages of Polite Society." Wouldn't this be fine for our Chicago school children?

This knowledge might be more usable than that "Columbus discovered America Oct. 14, 1492." A question given in the geography test to my girl, aged 12 years, was: "Name the principal products of Timbuctoo." Incidentally, the geography book was dated 1913. We wonder if things haven't changed a bit since we left the old schoolhouse some twenty-five years ago.

MORE ABOUT TIPPING.

Chicago, June 30.—Reading recent comments in your column on the tipping system, I want to say that a waiter's wages are about $10 or less a week. The tip a customer gives a waiter is for his personal service and in many cases he saves the customer more than the tips amount to by recommending to him certain dishes, and not overdoing the ordering.

Summer Play Attire Aids Glamor Role

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
(Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.)

Our summers are nothing short of God's gift to certain young women who might be termed negative in appearance, even drab, during other seasons.

Do you ever stop to think of how a person's whole outlook is changed with the donning of a play suit? We have in mind one of those bookish young creatures, retiring and negative indeed when good looks estimates were being made. Pale she was, and spiritless somehow, although a really charming girl at heart. Some one happily urged her into a play suit shopping spree, including two smart little beach ensembles, slacks and tennis type things in lovely colors. The colors and the general play spirit that only such dress can provide has worked a miracle in this young woman.

Normal Child May Suffer a Speech Defect

GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

In his brief address on speech difficulties before the American Academy of Pediatrics in New York in June, Dr. Samuel T. Orton was discussing only the normal child. For the time being he excluded as causes of the trouble these two factors: Actual defects in the organs of speech [as for example, a cleft palate], and deafness. He did, however, mention one fact in connection with the latter, and that was that a certain type of minor defect in hearing might not delay a child's beginning to speak, but would cause inperfections in his speech.

This type of defect is known as "high frequency deafness"—that is, it is concerned with the inability to hear the higher vibrations in speech and so prevents a child receiving perfect word patterns. Logically, if he can't receive a perfect word pattern he cannot produce it. Expert speech training can correct this.

The next general statement of interest to parents that Dr. Orton made was that many normal children have speech difficulties. He went on to say that those children are usually to be found in one of two groups.

In group one are to be found those who are slow in speaking, but understand just as well as other children everything that is said to them.

These children respond well to training. Also they frequently come out of their difficulty quite spontaneously. But Dr. Orton does not believe it is wise to wait too long for children to outgrow these troubles, because a child's awareness of them and the embarrassment or ridicule they cause for him sometimes result in personality difficulties.

Dr. Orton mentioned as one cause of defect in speech the matter of handedness. The child who is forced into the exclusive use of one hand when it is not natural, or who has a cross-pattern of handedness sometimes has a persistent speech difficulty. [This is probably most commonly noted when parents have forced a child who instinctively uses her left hand to make exclusive use of her right.]

The subject of speech difficulties as discussed in the conference will be finished tomorrow.

"The Left-Handed Child in a Right-Handed World" and a "List of Speech Clinics" are leaflets of interest to parents, nurses, and teachers. Send a large, stamped, addressed envelope for each one. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Utterly Simple, Really Smart

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCKS.

Utterly simple little dresses that may be worn to all kinds of informal social functions, and that are crisp and cool, too, are essentials in any well ordered summer wardrobe. The frock presented in the pattern today is just such a design, and it makes up beautifully is many types of silk and cotton sheers. The basic lines of the dress are almost fundamentally simple. There are no plaits, no intricate seams to be joined. It's the type of dress you can "whip up" in a couple of hours. The bodice and neckline are what give this dress distinction.

At the left, a version with V neckline is sketched. Edging it is lace, more of which trims the short puffed sleeves. If you like, a corsage, real or artificial, may be used on the shoulder.

The version at the right gives the dress a heart-shaped neckline and scallops to match are the treatment on the short puffed sleeves. A trio of ribbon bows trims the bodice and is matched by the belt.

Style No. 2907 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3 yards of 35 inch material, with 2 yards of ribbon for bows and belt.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Hurry! Hurry! Letters to Sally Due Tomorrow

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.
[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

If you expect to see Jimmy Dykes and the rest of the boys when the Chicago White Sox meet Philadelphia on Thursday, July 13, don't waste your time today, boys and girls. The youngsters who will see that game with me will be selected tomorrow morning, bright and early, and if your letter isn't on my desk then, you haven't a chance.

It's a wonderful opportunity for any boy or girl to see a big league ball game, provided they are real fans and can prove that to me. All you have to do is write a letter, telling me why you'd like to come, and if it's a pretty convincing one, you may be among the winners.

Be sure, however, to write your letter without help from any one. Tell me your full name, address, and age.

Fifty boys and fifty girls will be selected to be my guests at the party. Their names will be printed in next Sunday's TRIBUNE. If you would like to see the Chicago White Sox play this game better than anything else you can think of, you're just the kind of boy or girl I want to hear from.

You can tell me about your favorite players, why you like baseball or anything else you think will help to win an invitation for you. But don't forget to tell me your name, where you live, and your age. You'd be surprised at how many youngsters write good letters and then forget one of these important details.

Don't wait another minute to send that letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Mrs. Guy Stillman (Nancy Holbrook) Becomes Mother

A daughter was born last night to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stillman at St. Luke's hospital. The infant weighed 7¼ pounds and, with her mother, the former Nancy Holbrook of Barrington, was reported progressing nicely. Stillman is the son of James A. Stillman and Mrs. Fowler McCormick. The couple was married in Dundee on Aug. 24, 1938. Their home is in Troy, N. Y., where Mr. Stillman has been attending Renssalaer Polytechnic institute.

Barbara Blossom Bows

Miss Barbara Blossom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Blossom Jr. of Lake Forest, made her formal bow to society at a dinner-dance at the Shoreacres club Monday night. There was a hint of old Spain in the charming frock of white tulle and black lace that the bud wore. Two red roses ornamented the lace bodice. Miss Blossom's headdress was Spanish in effect, too, for although it was not a mantilla, it was fashioned of black lace.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: My friends have repeatedly told me that you have been known to charge for your advice, and have asked me to give up the idea unless I was willing to pay for the information. I have repeatedly contended that a columnist of your renown would not gain anything by such an action. Since I am a school teacher, it is needless to say that, if such a bill were to be paid by me, I am very much afraid that I should have to abandon the idea of seeking information. I would like, however, to prove to my friends that this accusation is untrue.

"Last night two of my colleagues and I entertained a visiting professor at bridge, the result being that I now am writing my first letter to an authority on the subject of that game.

"I am not an excellent student of bridge [as my friends frequently remind me], but I am one of those hard headed individuals who believes he is right until proved wrong.

"The hand that I am inclosing herein was played at contract, with as little adherence to the rules of the games as is possible for professors. The actual question in my mind is this: Did I [East] err in passing my partner's double on the second round of bidding?

"West led the club queen. East won and returned the heart nine. Declarer ducking, West won with the jack. The club six then was led and won by declarer. The heart king was taken by the ace and the spade ace was cashed, followed by a lead of the three spot, won by partner's spade queen. The spade jack was returned, declarer ruffing. Declarer played the ace of diamonds and the remaining trumps, on which West obligingly tossed his jack of diamonds in order to protect his king of spades. At this point declarer let out an exultant shout: 'Made it, doubled and redoubled, game and rubber!' He then laid down the king of diamonds, catching West's unguarded queen.—L. B., Louisiana."

First, let me repeat [for at least the fiftieth time] that I do not charge for advice. I cannot understand how a rumor so obviously absurd can remain in circulation.

Now for the technical points involved. My correspondent [East] may not be an "excellent student of bridge," but his hard headedness is, in this case, completely justified. West's double of two hearts was not a takeout or informatory double in any system! This was another of those cases where a player obviously "changed his mind" in the course of the bidding. Having failed to make the proper bid on the first round, that is, to have doubled one heart, West became panicky at the thought that he had not fully disclosed his strength, and attempted the impossible, to correct his first error by making a bid [double] that now had an entirely different meaning. East merely followed orders by leaving in the double.

I must admit, however, that I am bewildered by the fact that the two heart double was fulfilled. Since there was no possible entry to the dummy, declarer should have lost two spades, two hearts, one diamond, and two clubs, for a two trick penalty. West's defense, including his opening lead, was so horrible that it seems a bit thick for him to have offered any criticism of his partner's bidding.

Two Buds from Washington on N. Shore Again

BY JUDITH CASS.

TWO Washington debutantes have returned to their old homes on the north shore. Neither is to have a Chicago debut, however. They are Miss Rose Chatfield Taylor and Miss Margaret Houghteling.

Miss Taylor and her brother, Hobart, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne C. Taylor, are in their Lake Forest house for the summer. The elder daughter, Adelaide, is abroad and so is Richard, the younger boy. It is possible that Mrs. Taylor will give a small tea later for Rose, who made her formal bow at a dinner in Washington early in June.

The James Lawrence Houghtelings and all four of their children are in their Winnetka house for the summer. Miss Houghteling, affectionately called Peggy, was graduated at Chatham Hall in June and expects to enter Vassar in the autumn. She will make her debut in Washington during the Christmas holiday season.

Miss Gillespie to Bow at Christmas Day Tea.

First of the Christmas day teas to be announced is one Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gillespie will give for their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Gillespie, either at home in Scott street or at the Fortnightly club. Christmas falls on a Monday this year.

Miss Gillespie is spending the summer with her family at their home in Leland, Mich. She will return to Bryn Mawr for her second year in September.

The Arthur H. Hedlys of Libertyville are making plans for a fall party for their younger daughter, Miss Madeleine Hedly.

Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Talbot Jr. and the Lawrence Meekers haven't made any definite debut plans for their daughters, Miss Elinor Talbot and Miss Sidney Meeker, who are of debutante age. Miss Talbot, who is at home from Vassar, will spend August in Charlevoix, Mich., with her family, as usual.

Miss Meeker, who was graduated from the Girls' Latin school this month, may go away to college in the fall. She will be in and out of town all summer, paying visits here and there.

After spending a few weeks in Winnetka with the William A. Moultons, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Andrus [Dorelle Moulton] of New York have left for California to sail for Honolulu. They will spend the summer in Hawaii.

R. Douglas Stuarts in British Isles.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Douglas Stuart and their daughters, Miss Anne, a debutante, and Harriet, are spending the first part of the summer in the British Isles. When they return to Lake Forest about Aug. 1 Mr. and Mrs. R. Douglas Stuart Jr. and their baby will come from the east and the entire family will go to the Stuart ranch in Wyoming. The younger Mr. Stuart is a student at the Yale Law school.

Plans for a debut party for Miss Lucy Keeler daughter of the Edwin R. Keelers of Winnetka, are being put off until Mrs. Keeler has recovered from an illness. Miss Keeler may enter college in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Freeman will give a tea at home in Winnetka on Sept. 9 to introduce their daughter, Miss Christina Freeman. Miss Freeman attends Wellesley college.

Alvan Henry to Claim Bride in Louisville.

The John G. McDonalds and the Huntington B. Henrys are looking forward to next week-end. Their nephew, Alvan Read Henry, and Miss Virginia Gray Montgomery of Frankfort, Ky., will be married on Saturday in Louisville, Ky. The marriage is bringing the bridegroom's parents, Judge and Mrs. Robert L. Henry, from Egypt for a short visit in this country.

Judge Henry's other brothers, William W. Henry of Tulsa and Winston P. Henry of Houston, and their wives also will witness the ceremony. The whole family will be quartered in a country club, and if the weather is not too hot the group will stay on for several days' visit. Otherwise the McDonalds hope to bring Judge and Mrs. Henry back to the McDonalds' summer home in Silver Lake, Mich., to which the McDonalds moved last Saturday.

A Wide Brimmed Hat for Street Clothes

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

The wide brimmed sun shade hat for daytime and street clothes is made of a plaid patterned novelty material resembling coarse crash. The very high crown accents the flattering down curve of the wide brim. Under facing ribbon matches the trim band on crown.

New Play Togs Bright in Color, Smart in Style

BY RHEA SEEGER.

This is the peak of the season for play and vacation clothes. Overalls have gone completely daffy in red and white dotted cotton trimmed with snow white rickrack braid. They are just like regulation overalls with bib pockets and crossed suspenders. Sunbonnets also come in the same cotton with the same rickrack edging.

Considerably less eye blinding are the navy blue overalls cut and made the same way. In other cotton materials come the slashed overalls, for beach lounging and country wear. These have the legs cut off above the knees. They come in grand colors, visible for miles . . . red, green, a biting, vivid blue, copper, magenta, and burnt orange.

This season's play suits are plenty different from last year . . . especially in the cut of the skirts. The one piece shirt and short under dresses are still marvels of smooth tailoring and excellent fit. The shorts have action pleats but they are pressed flat and stitched half way down to keep the silhouette slim and neat.

New detachable skirts are fuller than ever before, with Dutch side pockets giving even more fullness at the hip line. Or you can find the peasant skirts artlessly gathered into a very fitted belt band effect. The most popular materials are wild, big checks, and Scotch plaids.

Golf dresses reach a new high for easy on the eye beauty and for super comfort during the game. Sleeves are brief, with trick ideas in the perfect width and ease of the armhole. Dainty pastel colored chambray is the hit of the collections; it's smooth, tailors like a bit of linen and can be worn without a slip, as the stuff is not transparent. The loveliest summer color is a shade in English violet, flattering for blondes or brunettes and perfect for coppertops! These golf specials button down the front, launder beautifully, and look like a snappy daytime dress on the streamline. Visor hat to match completes the best of the real golf dresses.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

At the races, at tennis matches, at ball games or any such sports where you try to watch what's going on while you sit in the blazing sun you will find a new kind of eye shade a whale of a lot better for your eyes and even for your purposes than inferior sun glasses. And inferior sun glasses, as we've said so many times before, are all too common these days.

These are curved shades, one for each eye, that stand right out from the brows. They are attached to a nose piece and held in place by ear pieces. They're on the principle of the eye shades of old, but are much smarter looking. You can adjust them above your own glasses, incidentally.

They don't interfere at all with your natural vision, as improperly fitted sun glasses do, because they don't screen the eye. They merely shade it. They're made of some opaque composition material and come in a flock of colors. You can, if you've a taste for such whimseys, make them a harmonizing or contrasting note to your costume. The white probably will be extremely popular.

Already, at the races and the ball games, you can see many men and women wearing these, though they've just come to market. And we hear tell that office workers who must sit under a glaring light prefer them to the not-too-attractive eye shades that have been used for so many years to shield the eyes from overhead glare.

These are all the same size, but don't let that bother you. If the side pieces seem too loose or too tight for a comfortable fit you merely insert them in hot water and bend them to fit.

Arlington Has a Big Day on Glorious 4th

BY BETTY BROWNING.

Mark it on next year's calendar, Arlington is a good place to spend the Fourth of July. This advice is proffered because it would be difficult to find a gayer spot in which to spend the "glorious Fourth" than Arlington was yesterday.

It was one of the big days in the inclosure and the grand stand.

Probably no one had a better time at Arlington yesterday than Mrs. John G. Shedd. Mrs. Shedd goes to Arlington once each season. Her son-in-law, Charles H. Schweppe, was her host at luncheon and afterward she sat, a small erect figure, in his box through the afternoon. Large purple orchids offset her costume, which was all white except for touches of black on her hat.

Mrs. Shedd's daughter, Mrs. Kersey Coats Reed; a grandson, John Shedd Schweppe; Mrs. John T. Pirie, and John T. Pirie Jr. also were in the party. Mrs. Reed was stunning in a purple dress printed in a rose red design with a large rose red straw hat trimmed in purple. Mrs. Pirie's small black hat was adorned with large soft white flowers that harmonized with her coo. black and white print dress.

There were dozens of young people present, and family parties were much in order. Mrs. Donald R. McLennan was absentee hostess to a large group at luncheon, and afterward her party filled her box and overflowed into Robert F. Carr's. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Brown were the hosts for her mother and Miss Betty Mead, Miss Grace Shumway, Detchon Elliott and Noyes McLennan were in the party.

Mr. Carr's house guests, Miss Marie Bassett and Hood Bassett of Jackson, Mich., who with their mother, Mrs. Frances Shaughnessy, are visiting Mr. Carr, were Mrs. McLennan's guests at luncheon, too. Afterward Mr. Carr and Mrs. Shaughnessy and Mrs. McLennan and her other two daughters, Mrs. Woodbury S. Ober and Mrs. John B. Morse, and their husbands joined the party.

Col. and Mrs. Robert R. McCormick arrived in the middle of the afternoon, and so did the Chauncey McCormicks with their three sons, and Miss Hope Baldwin of Beverly Hills, N. J., Brooks McCormick's fiancée. Miss Baldwin was charming in a black and white print dress accented by a bright green sash, and she wore the new open toe stockings with her toeless shoes.

The Robert J. Thornes brought their daughter, Mrs. Charles L. Peet, who is visiting them for a fortnight.

Miss Anne Jay Bryant's white printed frock, white and green corsage and white hat with brown band were demure, by contrast. Mrs. Ralph Applegate, the former Julia Patterson, tied her sailor hat with veils of several colors, and brightened her white frock and bolero jacket with a sash of strands of wool of the same shades.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hertz, whose Count D'Or won the Stars and Stripes handicap, had another large party, among them Mrs. Roy Carruthers, Mrs. Bolivar Bond and Mrs. Wade H. George of Versailles, Ky.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

The Observation Post.

Hollywood, Cal., July 4.—That noise you hear, my little chickadees, is Hollywood's Eddie Cantor breaking all records at Loew's State theater on Broadway. . . . Evidently there's nothing wrong with Broadway that a sock attraction won't cure. . . . Previous record holders at that theater were Rudy Vallee, Burns and Allen, Jack Dempsey, and this reporter.

It is to be doubted that any performer ever has done the business in vaudeville that Cantor has piled up. . . . Others have registered spasmodically, but over a course of years [the toughest test], the little man with the banjo eyes has been a power house of grosses.

Secret of his long tenure is that Cantor always works hard to give a good show. . . . His success never turned him into a lackadaisical stage performer, and audiences have the unwritten guarantee that he'll be in there pitching all the way when they chuck their dough through the box office grille.

His feat in going into a theater that has been doing as low as $12,000 a week, on a stem that has been wilting, and doing a record smashing week is his greatest indorsement. . . . That's really somethin'.

Random thought: Everybody got terrific credit for "Bachelor Mother." . . . Ginger Rogers, Director Kanin, et cetera. . . . Quite overlooked was expert Norman Krasna. . . . He only did the screen play. . . . Without that nothing happens.

"Dawn Patrol," "Gunga Din," "Stagecoach," "Dark Victory," and "Juarez" are the five pictures picked as outstanding from January to June, in the Hollywood reporter poll. . . . In other words, these five will win serious consideration from the Academy award balloters year's end.

For competition, these five flickers will have to meet the challenge of pictures released between June 1 and Dec. 31, and in that list will be "Gone with the Wind," "Northwest Passage," "The Women," "Each Dawn I Die," and other biggies.

It is interesting to note that of the first five selected, three of them were "action" pictures: "Dawn Patrol," "Gunga Din," and "Stagecoach." . . . The trend this year has been to greater motion in motion pictures. . . . Hollywood took the Gene Autry lesson to heart.

The first five performances to be selected by the critics since Jan. 1 have been Claudette Colbert, Norma Shearer, Shirley Temple, and Bette Davis twice. . . . Miss Davis is the white haired girl of the first half of the celluloid year, having been named twice for her performances in "Dark Victory" and Juarez." . . . You can agree with the estimate put on her performance in the former, just as you can disagree violently with the estimate put on her performance in "Juarez," which had neither speed nor control nor a great measure of technique. . . . By all odds, it was one of her poorest, as the part itself did not lend itself to significant interpretation. . . . The five actors named since Jan. 1 are David Niven, for "Dawn Patrol"; Gable, for "Idiot's Delight"; Warner Baxter, for "Wife, Husband, and Friend"; Laurence Olivier, for "Wuthering Heights," and Paul Muni, for his brooding portrait of Benito Juarez.

The town is chuckling over the now-you-see-it-now-you-don't transition which Director Sidney Lanfield accomplished in Sonja Henie's "Second Fiddle." . . . Rudy Vallee and Sonja are shown seated at the side of a swimming pool in Hollywood and in the scene is a big jar of popcorn. . . . Sonja idly takes a handful and tosses it in the air. . . . So does Vallee, and his toss sends the popcorn into the branches of a tree, creating the impression of snowflakes.

With that, and nothing more as a transition basis, the next scene shows the swimming pool frozen over and La Henie skating on it. . . . The skating sequence ends and the camera returns to Sonja and Rudy seated at the swimming pool. . . . Surrealist Painter Salvador Dali has some daring creations to his credit, but Lanfield made him take a backseat on this one. . . . This was a dream sequence in which the dreamer skated with her eyes wide open.

Tyrone Power and Annabelle sailed on the Italian boat, after all, huh? . . . Very tactless. . . . No young actor has come along so surely and rapidly as David Niven, London's gift to the cinema. . . . His last three pictures have been "Dawn Patrol," "Wuthering Heights," and "Bachelor Mother" and in all of them, Niven has scored in extremely fast company. . . . This is quite okay with the movie colony, because there is no actor out here better liked than the genial, gracious Briton.

In a town of corrugated brows and furrowed faces, the smiling Niven is the facial equivalent of "unusual" California weather. . . . He's a bit of all right, but his golf could stand improvement.

Good-bye To Vienna

By Olga L. Rosmanith

(Copyright: 1939: By News Syndicate Company, Inc.)

SYNOPSIS.

An American girl and her Viennese sweetheart, Franz Gruenwald, in a café in Vienna hear a radio announcement of Hitler's entry into Austria. The girl, Marian Taylor, has been staying in Franz's home, studying voice. Franz fears for his foster father, Prof. Josef von Plasy, author of a recent anti-Nazi book. He refuses to flee the country and leave his wife, Gisela, and son Johann, who has the mind of a child. Leopoldine, a pro-Nazi woman surgeon, in love with Franz, warns him to send the American girl home. Her brother, Karl, is a Storm Trooper. Von Plasy is taken off to jail to die from shock. In order to take Gisela's money out of the country to deliver to her friend, Emil Wiedermann in Riga, Marian invests it in rare stamps. Herr Speyer, the stamp merchant, guesses her purpose, but is sympathetic and asks her to deliver a picture to a friend of his in Riga, a Mme. Lonska. Marian leaves without telling Franz her purpose. Franz loses his job. When Leopoldine secures one for him he accepts it for the sake of his dependents. Marian learns Herr Wiedermann is in love with Gisela and wants to arrange for her and Johann to come to Riga. He takes her to call on Mme. Lonska, who insists that Marian stay with her. Marian realizes that Mme. Lonska is a spy and that she thinks Marian also is one and that the picture from Herr Speyer was a message in code. Marian returns to Vienna.

INSTALMENT XXI.

ALL SEEMINGLY WELL.

Marian spread the crisp Vienna roll with butter. "I found Frau Radovic just on the wing poised to fly off. She told me some tragic things. She's a good soul. She left some money with me to take care of some of her friends until some kind of relief is organized. Otherwise she would leave them starving."

Gisela sighed deeply. "Poor Vienna. Poor people. I was reckless to give you all I had to take out—though if I had kept any I might have lost it. We were down to our last meal ourselves. It was a very grim sensation."

Marian thought, this cannot be true, I will wake up in a minute, not people like us, I am dreaming. She said faintly—"but Franz, what is he doing?"

"Dispensing at the hospital—by great good fortune. The laboratory is closed to him."

"Dispensing!" She knew little about it except that dispensers made up prescriptions. "Isn't that rather a comedown?"

"In one way, yes. In another, by no means. We are eating and paying our way. When you consider that Franz is theoretically degraded by his connection with the professor, it is a wonderful privilege." It was new to hear Gisela's voice edged with such irony.

"We had Leopoldine to thank for that. I've never liked the girl, though I don't know why. Perhaps because Josef didn't like her. But she was quick with her friendship when she saw we needed it."

It stung Marian to think that Leopoldine could give Franz such important help, though reason told her she had no cause for jealousy.

"It was good of her," she managed to say generously.

"One brother is a hero because he was implicated in the conspiracy to murder Dollfuss. He is now out of prison. Another is a Storm Trooper. The family has influence."

Her voice was bitter and her eyes were very bright. Marian was silent, aware of what she must be feeling. Presently Gisela pushed her chair from the table, got up and deftly began to move the things. "I do my own work now because money is too tight to employ a servant. Not that I would have discharged Eda for that reason. But I found her going through the letters in my bureau. If you had left a note for me with Franz telling me about the stamps she would have informed about it. The city is poisonous with informers——"

"Gisela! Is this civilized old world Vienna?"

"No. It's Nazi Vienna. O, I don't mean that the people have changed. But it's full of strangers. Also every city has its scum and now the scum has come to the top. Old feuds are virulent with life and the bitter are revenging themselves on the successful. Nobody knows who rules the city. Nobody knows where to go for justice. Any one who wants to see an enemy ruined need only anonymously denounce him."

The doorbell rang and Gisela hurried away to answer it. Marian heard the rattle of the chain as Gisela peered through the safe crack then drew it back and opened it. She returned, a woman friend following her into the room. Marian knew the woman, the wife of a manufacturer of fine Viennese chocolates and candy. Her husband had been a lifelong friend of the professor's. She nodded to Marian briefly and took no further notice of her. "Now we know at last why they took August and kept him a week in prison. We heard this morning. I had to come up and tell you because it was so funny."

"Funny?" inquired Gisela, bewildered.

"Very funny. They are taking over the factory and putting in a commissioner because they say August is not sufficiently respectable to control one of Vienna's best businesses. He has a prison record."

Gisela said "Grosser Gott—that is terrible, Emilie."

But the other woman laughed, dabbing with her handkerchief at the tears which were running down her face. "Well, I must run now. I must find a cheaper place to live. But I knew you would appreciate this joke! I had to come and tell you."

Gisela went with her to the door and came back to Marian. She put her hand under the girl's chin and turned it up. "This won't do, my dear. You cannot carry the load of all Vienna on your back. Each one has only so much to bear—his own share. Remember that. We will help where we can and where we cannot we will not think. Any other way lies hysteria, and hysteria never helped anybody——"

Marian looked round the flat remembering something. "It's very quiet. Where is Johann?"

"He's supposed to be at the market with my list. But he is probably in the gardens this minute feeding the birds. He never hurries. Would you like to dial the hospital and call Franz?"

But Marian did not want to speak to Franz for the first time on the telephone. She could only say such hollow things and her heart ached for him. "No, I'll wait till he comes home, thanks."

It was the middle of May before spring made a vigorous attempt to stay after a spirited struggle with rain and hailstones and chilly winds. Franz and Marian went up to Kobenzl that first summery Sunday. She had persuaded him that now he was working in the hospital and the adventure with Gisela's money had been successful, and the apartment had been ransacked till there was nothing left to ransack, her association with them at the Reichstratstrasse would be perfectly safe. He had to admit that there seemed to be nothing they could do to her.

Franz had to work at the hospital on Sunday mornings, but the great charm of Vienna has always been the easy accessibility of the woods and hills and open country. Ten minutes after leaving the city on the motor cycle they were parking it at the Hübner café at Kobenzl. They lunched on the terrace under the trees with its far flung view of the winding Danube, the embracing hills and the dreaming roofs and spires of Vienna.

Franz was still obsessed by the risk she had taken in smuggling Gisela's money out of the country. He returned to the subject. "It makes my heart stand still just thinking of it."

"But it's over, Franz—it's over."

"Is it? Your career is not over. It's in your character. It scares me to think you might take some horrible risk again."

"What about? Everything's all clear now. There wouldn't be any. The other things—Gisela's visa and yours—are strictly legal——"

But Franz heard stories every day he did not bring home because he saw no point in depressing them. "Promise you'll never take any kind of risk again with the Nazi régime. That's all I ask. Please promise me."

Was Marian visited by some mystic prescience? She changed her mind about the promise even as she opened her mouth to make it. "Don't be absurd, Franz. You're being morbid. Why should I make unnecessary promises?"

They sat a long time over their coffee, smoking, dreaming over the bright landscape, talking little, poignantly happy to be with each other. They were both conscious of a deep gratitude that all went well with their own personal affairs. Marian's father had consented to sign affidavits for Franz, Gisela, and Johann. He had consented to her remaining in Vienna till Franz received his American visa and could travel home with her. Happiness as complete as two who had seen what they had seen could hope for lay waiting for them in the near distance. It was only a matter of time.

GASOLINE ALLEY—SWEET SORROW

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Blase

Newlyweds, Be Considerate of Your Partners

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Herewith are a few items we would call to the attention of brides and bridegrooms, familiarity with which may keep the orange blossoms from fading.

Take the matter of "in-laws" first. Don't assume that they are persons out to destroy your happiness. Don't let them destroy it. Let your loyalty be to each other first, last and always. And don't, bride, approach that older woman, your mother-in-law, with a chip on your shoulder. Give her a chance to show that she is a human being. If she turns out to be a thorn in your flesh, take action by keeping silent but maneuvering your escape from her unwelcome presence by firmly refusing to live with her or having her move in on you.

Don't forget your manners, bride and bridegroom. You portrayed them well during the courtship era. You considered his tastes and he considered yours, and you did it without undue strain. Try to keep up that status. You are still two persons who should observe the amenities of living. Be polite to each other. Be as polite as you would be to outsiders.

Before your marriage you may have wished one or the other did this-and-that differently. But you did not attack your victim with a brutal announcement that "so it shall be done." You thought up artful, politic ways of effecting the result you desired. Keep up playing that theme, with consideration of the other's feelings directing you.

Get yourself straightened out on money matters.

Don't jump to conclusions. You are two persons still getting acquainted, really, and there will be moments when one must explain himself or herself to the other.

Crochet Turban Ideal Accessory for Summer Wear

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Turbans to the right and left of us, and the question is which ones we want. They all are beautiful and especially the crocheted ones which are made in the knot design or in a crocheted cross-stitch pattern. They are extremely simple to create, and may be twisted to suit the individual. Above all, they are delightfully cool for summer when crocheted of lightweight cotton cord.

For instructions in crocheting the turbans, No. X-948, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Here's one of the simplest summer meals of all. The meat won't require longer than ten minutes or so of cooking, potatoes will take about twenty minutes, if they aren't too big, and the vegetable dish will cook in that time, too. There's no other cooking process involved and so little extra effort that the whole meal can be ready in half an hour.

Any kind of fresh berries may be used in this no-work dessert. Just because raspberries are suggested is no reason why strawberries, sweet cherries, or blueberries won't do quite as well. Sweeten the fruit as much as you like and crush it until it's juicy.

SHORT CUT DINNER

Boiled Stuffed Frankfurters
New Potatoes in Cream
Savory Carrots.
Tomato and Cucumber Salad on Romaine
Sponge Cupcakes [Bakery] with Crushed Fresh Raspberries and Whipped Cream
Coffee

Broiled Stuffed Frankfurters

[Serves four]

1 pound frankfurters
Prepared mustard
¼ pound American cheese
¼ pound sliced bacon

Split frankfurters lengthwise, but do not sever. Spread cut surfaces with mustard and insert strips of cheese. Wrap each stuffed frankfurter with a slice of bacon and secure with a toothpick. Broil until bacon is crisp and cheese has melted.

Chili sauce or a wee bit of horseradish may be used in place of mustard in this recipe if your fancy requires a substitution.

Savory Carrots

[Serves four]

8 medium carrots, quartered
Salt, paprika
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon sugar
Minced parsley, onion, or chives

Cook the carrots uncovered in a rather small amount of boiling, salted water. Allow most of the cooking water to evaporate. When done, sprinkle with paprika, add butter and sugar, and sprinkle with minced parsley, onion, or chives.

Carrots have better flavor and are more nutritious if not drained of the cooking water. The method of cooking suggested is simple and highly to be recommended, whether or not the vegetable is finished with the seasonings here listed.

Buy plain sponge cakelets for the dessert if you can find them. Split them and prepare shortcake style with a topping of whipped cream. Simple frostings aren't objectionable if no plain cakes can be found.

Two Holiday Concerts Draw Thousands to Lake Front Band Shell

Music was not forgotten by Chicagoans yesterday in their search for Fourth of July pleasures. Many thousands attended the two Grant park concerts, some braving the tropical sun to hear Armin F. Hand and his American Legion band in the afternoon, many more coming to the lake front in the cool evening for music by A. F. Thaviu's outfit.

Both leaders recognized Independence day by sprinkling their programs with martial music. The bulk of both the afternoon and evening concerts, however, was given over to music which would be as acceptable on the fifth of July as on the fourth, and which derived its principal value from its ability to provide entertainment and delight.

In keeping with the spirit of summer music making, there were such light and melodious instrumental pieces as the "William Tell" overture, and such familiar operatic excerpts as the "Toreador Song" and the "Largo al Factotum."

The evening concert featured no fewer than three vocalists—Rita Warsawska, John Crawford, and Milo Luka [soprano, tenor, and baritone, respectively]. Henry Thompson, tenor, served as soloist at the afternoon event. E. B.

COUNT D'OR CAPTURES STARS AND STRIPES HANDICAP

DRUDGERY RUNS 2D, TAXES 3D IN ARLINGTON RACE

Longden Gives Hertz Horse Smart Ride.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Mrs. John Hertz's Count D'Or, Winston Guest's Drudgery, and Warren Wright's Taxes yesterday delivered the spectacular finish that has become one of the traditions of Arlington Park's $10,000 Stars and Stripes handicap. After Drudgery and Taxes had set the pace side by side for more than a mile, Count D'Or came up through the stretch with a rush that recalled the finishing power of his famous sire, Reigh Count. Getting to the leaders in the last sixteenth he drew clear to win by a length, while Drudgery beat Taxes by a head for second place.

Johnny Longden's fine judgment of pace, the perfect timing of his final move, and his careful choice of a path through the field of nine handicap stars was a vital factor in Count D'Or's victory. After the race he said that his mount showed a willingness to keep on running, indicating that he will be an important factor in the important distance events later in the summer.

Crowd Picks the Winner.

Count D'Or had earned considerable popularity earlier in the meeting by winning an allowance event at a mile. So yesterday's free betting crowd of 33,000 made him the 6 to 5 favorite. Drudgery, which had won the Inaugural handicap, was held at 6 to 1 and Taxes was a 12 to 1 proposition.

Count D'Or returned his backers $4.60, $3.40 and $2.80. Drudgery's prices were $5.80 and $4.40, while Taxes paid $5.40 to show. The winner's share of the $12,120 gross purse was $8,620. His time for the mile and an eighth was 1:50 4-5. A total of $601,073 was bet on the eight races.

After only a short delay at the post, Starter Roy Dickerson sent the field away. Mucho Gusto went out with a leap but Drudgery and Taxes went right after him. By the time they had reached the first turn Drudgery had taken command and Taxes had crossed over from the extreme outside to hold second place.

Count D'Or Waits for Move.

All the way down the backstretch these two cut out the pace, Ira Hanford keeping Drudgery about a length ahead of his rival. Count D'Or, which had been away slowly, moved up to fifth early in the run down the backstretch and went into fourth as they approached the far turn.

They swung around the last turn and came into the stretch with Drudgery half a length ahead of Taxes. These two were four lengths ahead of their nearest rival, Chief Onaway, but Count D'Or now was

249,541 See Games in Major Leagues; Two Records Fall

New York, July 4.—(AP)—Two attendance records fell as the major league clubs played the Fourth of July doubled-headers today.

A total of 249,541 saw the games—with the crowd of 61,808 at the Yankee stadium for Lou Gehrig day setting a season's attendance record and the throng of 56,272 at Detroit shattering all marks for that city. The attendance figures for the eight parks follow:

Rideout Wins Metric Mile in A. A. U. Meet

Lincoln, Neb., July 4.—[Special.]—Charley Hunter's Olympic club team of San Francisco broke the long reign of the New York A. C. as team champion of the 51st national A. A. U. games here today as four records were broken and seven defending champions came through successfully to again dominate their respective events.

The meet, viewed by 10,000 who sat through a sultry afternoon in a 95 degree temperature, watched one of the major upsets of the track season when Blaine Rideout, competing for the Shore A. C., disturbed the form charts in the 1,500 meters run. He said after the race that he had decided to build up a long lead in the third lap and hoped that it would offset the finishing kick of Charles Fenske, winner of the Princeton invitational mile. Rideout led by forty yards at one time but it was barely enough as Fenske closed fast to lose by two yards.

Rice Clips 23 Seconds Off Mark.

The first record of the day to go was the discus mark in which Phil Fox of the Olympic club hurled the plate 172 feet 4½ inches. This displaced Paul Jessup's mark of 169 feet 8⅞ inches made in 1930.

Gregory Rice, Notre Dame, broke the 5,000 meters run record, taking 23 seconds off the mark set in 1937 by Joseph McCluskey, New York A. C., when he stepped the long grind in 14 minutes 50.9 seconds.

Fred Wolcott, Rice institute, ran the 200 meter hurdles in 22.9 seconds, the fastest time ever run around a curve in this event.

New York A. C. Sets Record.

The final record performance was turned in by the New York A. C. relay team, which ran the 400 meters event in 41 seconds even. This bettered the mark of the Olympic club of 41.2 seconds set in 1937.

Leading team scores were: Olympic club, 45 points; New York A. C., 36; Shore A. C. of Elberon, N. J., 10; Penn State, 9; University of Michigan, 9; Rice institute, 8; Southern California A. A., 8; Indiana university, 8, and University of Nebraska, 6.

61,808 HONOR GEHRIG AS YANKS, SENATORS SPLIT

Washington Wins 1st, 3-2; Then Loses, 11-1.

New York, July 4.—(AP)—The season's biggest crowd, 61,808 fans, saw the New York Yankees and the Washington Senators split a double-header on "Lou Gehrig day" today, Washington winning the first game, 3 to 2, and the champions taking the second, 11 to 1.

In the opener, Dutch Leonard knuckleballed the American league leaders to defeat with a six hit performance. He has held the Yanks to four runs in the last thirty innings he has worked against them.

The Yankees clinched the second game in the third by scoring five runs off Alejandro Carrasquel, who had been presented a gift by a delegation from Venezuela, his native land.

1927 Stars Are There.

Grouped in boxes around the Yankee dugout were 14 members of the 1927 championship team, with which Gehrig also performed, early in his record endurance run of 2,130 consecutive games. Among them were Babe Ruth, Tony Lazzeri, Joe Dugan, Bob Meusel, Earl Combs, Mark Koenig, Wally Schang, and Herb Pennock.

Between games presentation of gifts and tokens of appreciation were made to Gehrig by the club, his Yankee teammates, and the baseball writers.

Gehrig, always reserved and somewhat shy, was overcome by emotion.

"I'd rather be anywhere than in the ball park," he said, tears filling his eyes.

Here Are the Presents.

Here is a list of the presents Gehrig received:

The Yankee club gave him a silver service set, the Yankee players a silver trophy, the New York Giants a fruit bowl and two candlesticks, the Stevens employés [caterers at the park], two silver platters, Hal Frank and Joe Stevens a silver pitcher, and the baseball writers a smoking stand. He also got a fishing rod and tackle from the stadium employés, a loving cup from the office staff at the stadium and the downtown office, a ring from a jewelry firm, and two scrolls, one from Washington, D. C., fans and the other from the "Old Timers'" association of Denver, Colo.

Dempsey Gains Again After Brief Relapse

New York, July 4.—[Special.]—All visitors were barred from Jack Dempsey's room following a slight relapse early this morning. Only his wife and Ned Brown, his publicity manager, were allowed to see the former heavyweight champion who is recovering from peritonitis following an emergency appendectomy.

The excitement of visits from Gov. Herbert Lehman and Dempsey's two daughters, Joan, 5, and Barbara, 3, on Monday was believed to have caused the setback. Dempsey rallied quickly, however, and was reported tonight to be on the road to recovery once more.

In spite of his serious condition and great weakness, the former heavyweight champion directed that a telegram be sent to Lou Gehrig at the Yankee stadium this afternoon.

"Hurrah for you, Lou, and the red, white, and blue. Long may you both wave. Sorry I can't be there, but they are holding me on third base," he dictated.

Dempsey will convalesce at Miami, Fla., according to Mrs. Dempsey.

KAYAK II. SETS TRACK RECORD IN HOLLYWOOD RACE

Inglewood, Cal., July 4.—(AP)—Kayak II. won the $15,000 American handicap in track record time at Hollywood Park today in his first start since capturing the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap last March. The C. S. Howard star ran the mile and one furlong in 1:49 4-5. The old time, set by Ligaroti a year ago, was 1:50. Nelson Howard's Gosum was second and Olimpo, owned by Bing Crosby and Lin Howard, was third.

CHALLEDON WINS $15,000 RACE AT SUFFOLK DOWNS

Boston, Mass., July 4.—(AP)—W. L. Brann's Challedon raced to within a fifth of a second of the track record today as he won the $15,000 added Yankee handicap, a mile and three-sixteenths, by a length at Suffolk Downs. Greentree's Hash ran second, two lengths in front of Charlie Trotter's Silent Witness. The time was 1:56 2-5.

Railway Station Observations.

A railway station holds so much
At any time of night or day
That's interesting for all to see
As travelers go upon their way.

Some look blasé and others smile
Before departing on a train,
And often many tears are shed
By some whose hearts are touched with pain.

The baggage even tells a tale
Unconsciously for all to see;
Expensive modern bags and those
That show the wear appallingly.

The old and young and middle aged,
Each life is such a different tale,
They mingle there and then are gone
Upon a near or distant trail.

A railway station holds so much
At any time of night or day
That's interesting for all to see
As travelers go upon their way.

SOX WHIP BROWNS TWICE WITH A STIRRING FINISH

Scores 7-3, 7-4; M'Nair Streak Ends at 9 Hits.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 4.—By staging a little unlooked for activity just in front of the finish line today, the White Sox were able to score a twin triumph over the St. Louis Browns. They won the first decision, 7 to 3, with comparative ease because of a six run sixth inning. But they entered the ninth of the second engagement one run in arrears, a deficiency soon adjusted by Ollie Bejma's second homer of the game. With the tying homer as an inspiration the Chicagoans slammed four more runs across to settle the dispute by 7 to 4.

The first game ended a seven week search by John Dungan Rigney, who in his twelfth start of the year finally accomplished his fourth victory. He was brilliant enough to yield only four hits, but nevertheless was helped considerably by the six runs with which his mates drove Jack Kramer to seclusion in the sixth.

Browns to Protest.

The Browns announced they would protest because Umpire Ed Rommel ruled a ball driven into the seats by Eric McNair was fair, but such complaints have no weight if based on a question of judgment.

The McNair homer which the Browns suspected was foul was only the start of a busy day for the little fellow. He followed the homer with three singles before the first game ended, thus accomplishing a streak of nine consecutive hits, three shy of the record.

He was stopped by Harry Kimberlin in his first appearance in the second battle, but before it ended he had acquired three more singles, one of them in the ninth off Bob Harris, rescuer of Vern Kennedy. The ex-Sox had appeared in the eighth to protect Kimberlin's one run lead, but was flattened for the decision in the final inning.

It's No. 5 for Brown.

The Sox entered the ninth trailing, 3 to 2, because of a bad inning experienced by Thornton Lee. One of the Sox runs was No. 7 homer by Bejma, who got into action because of Jack Hayes' leg infirmities.

Bejma led off in the ninth with his tying homer off Kennedy. Then Kuhel doubled, Kreevich walked and Radcliff sacrificed. Walker and Appling also drew passes, forcing a run across. In came Harris only to be greeted by McNair's and Schlueter's singles to round out the five run rally, and Doc Clint Brown, who had relieved in the eighth for the twenty-seventh time this year, used the rally for his season's fifth victory.

FIRST GAME

The Sox's first hit off Kramer not only produced a run but also a bit of an argument. The hit was McNair's No. 4 home in the third inning which drifted high but lazily into left, curved around the field marker and dropped into the extremity of the grandstand in foul territory. Umpire Ed Rommel ruled it fair and his decision drew a swarm of Brownies around the plate. Rommel, after four stormy days in Detroit and here, was too weary to argue. He just let the Browns rave and when they could think of nothing more to say they walked away.

Rigney's one run lead just about faded in the fourth when Sullivan singled and McQuinn doubled for the first enemy hit. Gallagher popped to Tresh and Clift was purposely passed. A double play on Hoag's drive to Appling pulled Rigney out of this mixup. He got into another one in the fifth, but this time he wasn't so successful. Glenn led off with a single and Berardino walked. They moved up on Kramer's hunt, and Glenn scored the tying run on Christman's fly to Kreevich.

The sixth inning happiness started with a single by Hayes and a pass to Kuhel. After Kreevich had sacri-

CHAMPS DROP OPENER, 6 TO 4; TAKE 2D, 3 TO 2

Leiber Hits 3 Home Runs in Row.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
(Pictures on back page.)

Fifth place in the National league standings was yawning for the Cubs and second place was beckoning the Cardinals when there were two outs in the eighth inning of the second game of a double-header in Wrigley field yesterday.

The Cubs had blown the first game, 6 to 4, despite three successive homers by Hank Leiber, and were trailing 2 to 1 at this point in the second game. They had made two hits and had scored their only run on a passed ball. With one out to go, Gabby Hartnett, batting for Claude Passeau, knocked an in-the-park homer, his ninth maximum swat of the season, to tie the score at 2 to 2.

Some like it. Some don't. Others among the crowd at Wrigley field can take it or leave it. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Victory, 3 to 2, arrived in the tenth. Carl Reynolds was hit by a pitched ball, but was forced on G. Russell's bunt. Ducky Medwick dropped Dick Bartell's hard liner for the Cardinals' first error of the day, Russell stopping at second. Gus Mancuso, struggling to keep above the .200 mark in the season's averages, then bounced a single over second, the Cubs' fourth hit of the game, scoring Russell with the winning run.

No Ground Lost.

Thus the Cubs remained apace with the Reds, who also split, six and a half games back. They gained a game on the Giants, who dropped two to the Bees and would have been supplanted in second place had the Cards won. If the Cubs had lost the second game, they would have dropped below the Dodgers, who won two games from the Phillies. The light hitting champs still are in fourth place, a half game back of the Cards and a game and a half behind the Giants.

Leiber hit his seventh, eighth, and ninth home runs of the season in his first three times up to drive in all the Chicago runs in the first game. These powerful shots inspired a lot of hollering by a holiday crowd of 26,409, but had no exhilarating effects whatever among Hank's associates, who matched his three homers with three wasted hits, a triple by Hartnett, a scratch single by Augie Galan, and a ninth inning single by Carl Reynolds. Leiber's virtual solo offense proved inadequate in the ninth when Morton Cecil Cooper, a rookie who had replaced Fiddler McGee, knocked a two run homer.

Medwick Hits One, Too.

Leiber's first two homers, the second of which drove in Bill Herman, who had walked, gave the Cubs a 3 to 0 lead. The Cards tied the score in the fourth with their first four hits off Earl Whitehill and went

Newsom and Tigers Blank Indians, 4-0

Detroit, Mich., July 4.—(AP)—Blustering Buck Newsom slapped a 4 to 0 shutout on the Cleveland Indians today to the joy of the biggest baseball crowd in Detroit's history, 56,272 fans, but rain intruded to end the second game of a double-header in the third inning.

While Newsom limited the Indians to three hits and struck out six men for his ninth victory of the year, the Tigers grouped their blows off Lefty Al Milnar for two runs in the fifth and two in the seventh and swung back into a virtual third place tie with the Indians. Score:

BRUEN SHOOTS 2D 69; TAKES LEAD IN BRITISH OPEN

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, July 4.—(AP)—Big Jim Bruen, the young Irish amateur, continued his one man war on grassy St. Andrews today with his second straight sub-par 69 and an unchallenged claim to first place in the qualifying field for the British open golf championship with a 36 hole score of 138. His two rounds have provided the best golf shot on this course since the days of Bobby Jones.

Henry Cotton of England and Lawson Little of the United States had ruled the field until Bruen came home just before nightfall. They had two-day totals of 142, Cotton getting his on a four-under-par 69 on the old course today while Little, who shot a 69 there yesterday, took 73 blows over the new course.

Bulla, Allis Tied.

Behind these three, of whom Cotton still is the slight favorite, came a mixed field that included Johnny Bulla of Chicago and Percy Allis, English veteran. Bulla worried through a round of 71 despite putter trouble for his 143, while Allis, who had tied Bruen and Little for the lead yesterday, fell off to a 74 for the same total.

The third lowest score, just behind them, was shot by Reginald Whitcombe, the defending champion, who played solidly for 144 on a pair of 72's. Martin Pose, who led six Argentine qualifiers, and Jock McLean, Scotland's hope, were coupled at 145. Each had 73 today.

Low Fails to Qualify.

George Low Jr. of Jenkintown, Pa., son of one of America's veteran professionals, failed to qualify. The royal and ancient took the first 129, which included those with scores of 156 or better. Low and 18 others who tied at 157 were excluded. The survivors will play 18 holes tomorrow, 18 more Thursday and then the gruelling 36 hole final on Friday.

HYDROX TO PLAY TONIGHT.

The Hydrox girls will play the Parichy Bloomers tonight in a softball game on Shewbridge field. Marge Startz, who won 14 straight games before losing to the Cincinnati team last week, is expected to be on the mound for Hydrox.

Twin Star Triumphs in Morton Series

Twin Star, Lockwood Pirie's Sheridan Shore Yacht club racing sloop, won the Sterling Morton trophy by taking the final race of the series yesterday over a course off Belmont harbor. The race, for Star class craft, was sponsored by the Chicago Yacht club. Twin Star's time was 1 hour, 58 minutes and 24 seconds.

Gale VI., Harry G. Nye Jr.'s new boat, was second in 2:00:56, with twelve more Star from the Sheridan Shore, Chicago Jackson park, and Columbus yacht clubs following. Nye's total score of 49¼ points was high for the series, but he withdrew when his sloop's dimensions did not check with the Star class official blue prints.

Pirie Scores 47½ Points.

Pirie was given the trophy on the strength of his second place total of 47½ points. Little Audrey, Ted Mead's Sheridan Shore entry, was next with 42 points.

Dr. Theodore J. Morris' Alert IV. won a special race for R sloops of the Chicago Yacht club. His time over a twelve mile course was 2:22:30. Ed Schnabel Sr.'s Yankee was runner-up in 2:23:46, and the Waltman-Udell syndicate sloop Ardelle was third in 2:24:37.

Falcon, Audax Triumph.

C. P. Clark's Falcon won the third of a special series for the club's Eagle class racers over the same course as the R yachts sailed. Falcon's winning time was 2:48:30. Aquila, Hubert C. Ellis' Eagle, runnerup in 2:49:21, won the series with 8½ points. Falcon had 6¼.

Bill Whalen's cutter Audax won in the cruising division of a Jackson Park Yacht club race sailed off the outer Jackson Park harbor. The Hasson-Barnard syndicate R sloop Safara won in the small Universal [racing] division. Commodore Carl Kallgren and Edmund Jedrzykowski's club flagship, Princess, defeated John P. O'Rourke's Shamrock for first place in the Q and 8 meter class.

Three Records Fall as York, Pa., Wins Lifting Title

Steve Stanko of York, Pa., established three new records in the National Senior A. A. U. weight lifting meet which concluded three days competition in the Humboldt park bowl last night.

Stanko, competing in the heavyweight division, pressed 270 pounds to raise the record 5 pounds, and then did 280 pounds snatch to better his own record by 10½ pounds. His total of 895 was also a record.

The York team, taking five of the eight titles, successfully defended its team championship by scoring 29 points. The Chicago Weight Lifting club was second with 6 points.

Last night's winners follow:

165 POUNDS—John Terpak, York, Pa. [Press, 235; snatch, 240; clean and jerk, 325. Total, 800.]

Lake Geneva's Salmon May Be Just Brown Trout

BY BOB BECKER.

Lake Geneva, Wis., well known to many fishermen for its good bass fishing, has one species of fish which isn't seen very often by anglers. It's either the Sebago salmon or a lake developed brown trout. We expect to get a positive identification of this deep water fish before the summer is over.

Several months ago when we were busy getting an identification of the so-called steelhead trout or steelhead salmon which is found in Lake Michigan, a fish that was identified as a lake run rainbow which may be called a steelhead, we heard from several fishermen who asked about the so-called salmon in Lake Geneva. One fisherman wrote us that he had a couple of mounted specimens of salmon from that lake. But he wanted to know whether it truly was a salmon or not.

Dr. Edward Schneberger, chief biologist of the Wisconsin conservation department, informs us that he is trying to identify the species. He says:

"Last fall we obtained five specimens during the spawning period, and to me the characteristics indicate that they are lake developed brown trout. However, we collected approximately 5,000 eggs from the fish we were able to capture, and at the present time we are rearing between 2,000 and 3,000 fingerlings. We are anxious to withhold making any specific or definite statement as to the identity of this species until the fry are approximately 6 or 7 inches long."

Whatever this fish may be isn't bothering the black bass which continue to grow in Lake Geneva and give the fishermen a lot of fun. During the summer the bass fishing up there is a case of going down deep with crawfish. You drift over the bars or around the weeds with a crawfish bait traveling above the bottom. By fishing different spots in the lake it's possible to hook both the large and small mouthed bass.

All on a Summer's Day.

The smell of clover's in the air,
This lovely summer day,
And as I walk the country road
All nature seems to say:
"Rejoice, be glad with me, my friend,
You cannot say me nay."

"Come rest beneath my lofty elm
That shades the sunny way,
And gently lay your tired head
Upon my new mown hay.
Such comfort I can offer you,
And you need not repay."

I pause a moment at her wish,
Longer I cannot stay;
Though in the shade I'd love to rest
From sun's bright glare away;
But as I leave no more I'm sad,
Sweet nature's made me gay!

LAKE VIEW LIONS CLUB VOTES Meister Bräu Flavor First—35 to 6

At a regular meeting of the Lake View Lions Club at the Webster Hotel, 2150 N. Lincoln Park West, members and guests were asked to taste Meister Bräu bottled beer and compare it with other brands. Representing a variety of business in Chicago's thriving Lake View District, 5 out of every 6 of these men said, "I prefer Meister Bräu to any other beer."

The photo shows Geo. Berkenstock, grocer, 3752 N. Ashland Ave., Ted Zimmerman, representing the Equitable Life Assurance Society, 120 S. LaSalle St. and fellow Lions tasting and comparing Meister Bräu Beer.

Amazing Popularity of this Beer Due to All-Grain Flavor—Independent Investigator Finds

When Chicago newspapers asked retailers what brand of bottled beer leads in sales, they reported Meister Bräu, from 2 to 1 to 10 to 1. The Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation was asked to check on this amazing leadership and to learn the reason for this tremendous popularity by holding taste-and-compare tests among groups of men and women. These tests show that the old-time, all-grain flavor of Meister Bräu gives it this astonishing preference, and that Chicagoans from all walks of life appreciate the refusal of Richard Seibold, Meister Bräu Brewmaster, to add sugars or syrups to the brew.

Grass Cutter Wins at $11.20.

The Shadybrook farm's Grass Cutter, a stake winner during the Lincoln Fields meeting, led the field across the finish in the Philadelphia handicap, the secondary feature. Willie Garner brought him in more than three lengths ahead of Sir Jim James, which was half a length ahead of the fast finishing Melodist. The 6 to 5 favorite, Cross Bow II., tired after showing early speed and ended up in fourth place.

Breaking from the No. 1 post position in the seven furlong dash, Grass Cutter went right out with Cross Bow II. and Joy Ride to set the pace. Head and head these three raced down the back stretch. As they approached the turn, Grass Cutter forged ahead and Joy Ride began to tire. Going around the bend Grass Cutter drew out to a lead of two lengths. As the stretch run began, Sir Jim James passed Cross Bow II. but was unable to reach the leader. Melodist, which had been outrun in the early stages, came on well in the stretch to pass Cross Bow II. Grass Cutter paid $11.20, $4.60, and $3.40. He ran the seven furlongs in 1:24 4-5.

MAKE ADVISERS PROVE ABILITY, FARMER URGES

Assails Waste on Pay of Swivel Chair Aids.

BY THORNTON SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., July 4.—One hundred thousand persons are employed at public expense on the theory that they are creating better farmers, Chester E. Dempsey, Waukesha county milk producer and former Democratic member of the legislature, said today in a statement criticizing the federal farm burocracy. Despite all this expenditure, he said, farmers are producing less wheat, corn, and cotton than they did from 1900 to 1915, before many of them ever heard of a county agent.

These officials are supported by taxes on the assumption that they make better farmers, Dempsey said, at a time when the federal government is paying farmers to let their land stand idle and reduce crop production.

Dempsey proposes a law to require all farm instructors and all graduates of agricultural schools actually to operate a farm and prove that they can do so at a profit before they are permitted to teach agriculture, be inspectors or engage in any activity for the so-called improvement of the farmer.

Wants Teaching, Not Preaching.

"They should teach by the practical operations of their farms instead of preaching from swivel chairs," Dempsey said. "If they knew how to improve our present methods of farming, we would be forced to adopt their methods quickly or lose our farms to the college farmers. They know very well they can't make a farm pay and they are too smart and too lazy to work for nothing as the farmers are doing."

Dempsey said the 100,000 employes of the federal department of agriculture average $2,000 a year in salaries which would take half the wheat crop of 1938 to pay.

"In addition," he said, "we support a county agent and his staf, a 4-H club leader and his staf in nearly every county in the nation. There is an agricultural teacher in every graded high school and normal school, besides county agricultural colleges and the state college of agriculture.

Finds Snoopers Everywhere.

"We also support a department of markets with a large staf of employés. There is an army of horse doctors testing our cows and an army of inspectors snooping in our barns and homes. There are almost as many milk inspectors as there are farmers producing milk.

"We are supporting another army that less is heard about; that is the army servicing around 19 billion dollars in farm debts. The entire farm population is working for almost nothing to support an army of nonproducers.

"The only way to stop this and reduce our taxes and restore our independence is for congress and the state and the counties to stop appropriating money to pay their salaries. Then they will quickly forget about what is good for the farmer and leave us alone."

Dempsey also included a protest against the Wisconsin milk price control, which he declared contrary to public policy. Dempsey sells his milk in Milwaukee and said he averaged 2 cents a quart net for it. Fluid milk sells here at retail at 10 cents a quart.

"It should now be as plain as day," Dempsey wrote, "that control and price fixing by law is a fake and the principal cause of the prolonged depression in business and unemployment."

OBITUARIES

The Rev. T. R. Quayle.

The Rev. Thomas R. Quayle, secretary of the Lake County Law and Order league for twenty-five years, died yesterday at his home, 21, Scranton avenue, Lake Bluff. He was 85 years old.

Mr. Quayle, who was born in England, came to this country in 1882. In 1902 he came to Lake county as minister of the Presbyterian church of Libertyville. He became secretary of the Law and Order league in 1905 and retired from the ministry the next year. From that time on he campaigned against liquor, vice and gambling. He was credited with establishing the dry zone around Fort Sheridan and Great Lakes Naval Training station in the pre-prohibition days. He had been inactive since 1930.

Surviving are his widow, Fannie, and a son, William Hamilton Quayle. Service will be at the residence at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow. A second service will be at 2 p. m. in Oswego, Kendall county, where he will be buried.

E. C. Smith.

Funeral services for E. C. Smith, last surviving member of the train crew in the Chatsworth railroad wreck fifty years ago, will be conducted at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 415 West 63d street. Mr. Smith died Monday at the age of 85 in the home of his son, Clayton F. Smith, 10118 Wentworth avenue. A daughter, Mrs. Hazel Rinder, also survives.

Mr. Smith was a conductor on the eighteen car excursion train of the old Toledo, Peoria, and Western railroad which left Peoria for Niagara Falls, N. Y., on Aug. 11, 1887. At Chatsworth, east of Peoria, the train started across a bridge which was on fire. The bridge collapsed and the train fell into the river bed. Eighty persons were killed and more than 100 were injured.

AAA Plan Tried.

July 4, 1939.

WORKERS at the Du Page county farm are trying the government crop control plan this year for the first time and are finding how severe the restrictions may be on a farm that has not previously taken part in the program. Here are the allotments given the farm by local committees of the Agricultural Adjustment administration as compared with the average allotments for all farms in the county:

The corn acreage allotment is 36.2 acres, based on the committee's estimate of 166 acres of "crop land" on the farm. Crop land is defined by the AAA county committee as land that has been plowed and put in crop at least one year since 1933. The corn allotment for the farm is 21.8 per cent of the crop land as listed by the AAA.

The total corn acreage allotment for all farms in Du Page county is 36,776 acres. Total acreage of crop land is set at 117,698 acres. Based on these figures, 31.2 per cent of the crop land is allotted for corn.

37.1 Per Cent Alloted to Corn.

The AAA program makes a division of crops allotted to the acreage designated as crop land. It sets aside a certain acreage for corn and other grain crops under a special allotment. This allotment for the farm is 97.4 acres, of which 36.2 acres, or 37.1 per cent, is for corn. The corresponding allotment for the county is 72,353 acres, with 36,776 acres, or 50.8 per cent of that amount, allotted for corn.

The practice followed is for the county AAA committee to make the allotments to individual farms, using figures turned in by the township committees. Allotment figures for the entire county are sent from the state office of the AAA.

Allotments to farms are based partly on the history of acreages planted to different crops in past years and partly on farm management practices as determined by the township committees.

It's All Guesswork.

Operators of the farm, dissatisfied with the allotments given the farm and especially with the figure of 166 acres as the total crop land on the place, wondered how the committees had arrived at such low figures. Michael F. Lies, chairman of the county AAA committee, said all the acreage figures had been turned in by the Winfield township committee and that he assumed the figures had been obtained from some one on the farm who knew the facts.

Since none of the men at the farm could recall having given the committee any figures, the chairman of the Winfield township committee was questioned as to the source of the figures on acreage and yields and as to information on the farm management practices followed. The committee chairman said that he and the other members of the committee guessed at the whole thing. He said they conferred with no one at the farm.

Arbitrary allotments to any farm under the AAA program would seem to be discriminatory because of the marketing quota provisions of the law. If there is a marketing quota applied to this year's corn crop, all farms in the commercial corn area will be subject to its provisions and the portion of the total corn crop on any farm left free to be fed or sold will be based on the farm's allotment.

FOREIGN WHEAT PRICES UNEVEN; WINNIPEG GAINS

Liverpool Quotations Set New Seasonal Lows.

WINNIPEG, July 4.—(AP)—Little change was registered by wheat futures prices on the Winnipeg grain exchange today as buyers and sellers remained on the sidelines throughout most of the session. Final quotations were unchanged to ¼ cent higher.

Export business in Canadian wheat was difficult to trace but was believed to have reached nearly 400,000 bushels.

Liverpool closed ⅜ to ½ cent down under pressure of Manitoba and Argentine offers and lack of any important mill demand for actual wheat. The independent day holiday kept United States markets closed.

Exporters Buy Cash Wheat.

Exporters and shippers were credited with active buying of Nos. 1 and 2 northern grades in the cash wheat market. Coarse grains uncovered some export support in oats and barley.

Yesterday's country marketing totaled 302,000 bushels, compared with 234,000 for the same day a year ago. Closing futures prices follow:

New Lows at Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, July 4.—(AP)—Renewed easiness carried wheat futures down ⅝ to ½ cent, to new season's lows today. Manitoba and Australian offerings increased and United Kingdom milling demand continued slow. Tenders of 152,000 bushels on July contracts were not well taken. Fractional rallies occurred in late trading, reflecting early steadiness at Winnipeg. Prices follow:

HOPKINS REPORT TELLS OF RECENT BUSINESS GAINS

Washington, D. C., July 4.—(AP)—A report declaring that business activity has expanded during the last six weeks was made public today by Secretary of Commerce Hopkins.

"Recent gains have been substantial, but as they followed two months of decline the total volume for the second quarter of the year did not measure up to the results of the preceding quarter," the report said.

Income payments for the first six months of the year were said to be running at the rate of $65,600,000,000 annually. This compares with the 1938 total of $64,200,000,000. However, it is below the 1937 figure of $69,000,000,000 and more than $14,000,000,000 short of the goal set by President Roosevelt. Income payments include wages, interest and other forms of income.

Rail Freight to Top '38 in Third Quarter

Railway freight shipments during July, August and September will increase nearly 10 per cent over actual shipments in the corresponding months of 1938, the Association of American Railroads estimated yesterday.

On the basis of anticipated requirements of the thirteen regional shippers' advisory boards, the association placed shipments of twenty-nine principal commodities at 5,268,278 cars, or 9.9 per cent more than the 4,793,346 cars used in the third quarter of 1938.

All of the thirteen boards except two estimated they would need more cars to handle an expected increase in business. Increases were predicted in all but eight of the commodities.

Chief Increase in Northwest.

Largest anticipated increases were those reported by northwest shippers, who placed their car requirements at a level 37.4 per cent above last year's actual shipments. Great Lakes shippers estimated a 30 per cent increase and Allegheny district shippers forecast an upturn of 17.6 per cent. In the area embracing Chicago, a gain of 8.1 per cent was forecast.

In the past, estimates of the shippers' groups have proved accurate forecasts, and have become valuable in forecasting general business trends. The two districts in which declines are expected are the central western and Missouri-Kansas regions.

Increases by Commodities.

Commodities which are expected to be shipped in larger volume are flour, fresh fruits, cotton, live stock, poultry, and dairy products, coal, ore, salt, lumber, petroleum, iron and steel, machinery, cement, brick, lime, agricultural implements, automobiles, fertilizers, paper, chemicals, and canned goods.

Declines are expected in grain, hay, cottonseed, citrus fruits, potatoes, other fresh vegetables, gravel, and sugar.

The largest increase is scheduled in ore, with shipments placed at a level 74.6 per cent above last year. Automobile shipments are expected to increase 41.1 per cent, and iron and steel shipments 24.1 per cent.

MEXICO, BRAZIL SIGN $18,000,000 OIL AGREEMENT

MEXICO CITY, July 4.—(AP)—Conclusion of an $18,000,000 deal with the Mexican government petroleum agency was announced today by Santo Vahlis, representative of the Brazilian firm of Correa & Castro.

Under the agreement, he said, Mexico will sell 5,500,000 barrels of oil annually to Brazil along with asphalt and refined petroleum products.

Working with Vahlis was Fernando Saldana Galvan, head of Mexico's government controled newsprint agency, who was directed by President Cardenas to seek markets for oil produced by properties of United States, British and Netherlands operators which were expropriated in March, 1938.

Vahlis said his firm would install a refinery at Rio De Janeiro, costing more than $3,000,000, with equipment from the United States.

Renew Drive for Fund to 'Boost' City

Volunteer workers in the Greater Chicago campaign of the Chicago Association of Commerce today will resume their efforts to collect the remaining $121,000 necessary to make the campaign effective. The goal of the association is $625,000 and last Friday, when the campaign was originally scheduled to end, $504,000 had been pledged.

"There is every reason to believe that the small balance required for the Greater Chicago Plan budget will be forthcoming within the next three weeks," Donald M. Nelson, general chairman of the campaign, said yesterday. "The plan should be in operation and beginning to show real results long before the end of the year."

Seek to Arouse City.

The purpose of the campaign is to arouse Chicago to the need of organized planning and to start it driving forward with its old time "I Will" spirit, the organizers declare. The money is needed to finance the effort.

Avery Brundage, American representative on the International Olympics Games committee, who has just returned to the city from a world tour, was hopeful that the special events committee provided in the plan will arrange athletic and other events of national importance.

Brundage explained that he was in contact with foreign spokesmen and others whose influence may be helpful in making the proposed special program a certainty. He said a series of annual international games in which picked teams from foreign countries would meet All-American teams at Soldiers' field is possible.

Plan Annual Spectacle.

"We are hopeful," he said, "that before the end of the year we will be able to start some great annual spectacle here that will become as well known as the Mardi Gras of New Orleans, the Frontier Days' gathering at Cheyenne, the Louisville Derby, the Cleveland Air Races, and all the other nationally known events that have become accepted features in American life."

The civil affairs council of the association of commerce is to comprise 150 members selected from every class of citizens.

The line's fleet of air transports carried 54,042 revenue passengers last month, representing an increase of 91 per cent over the 28,231 carried a year ago, he said.

Passengers transported during the six months numbered 213,594, or 50 per cent more than the 141,998 carried in the first half of 1938.

Investors' Guide

REMINGTON RAND.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me a report on Remington Rand? I would like to learn whatever you can tell me about the company in connection with the following points in particular: What does this company make beside electric razors and typewriters? What is its size in relation to competitors? Have its recent earnings fallen off? How many shares of common and preferred stock does it have outstanding? Is the stock speculative? If you want to add any other data to the answers to these questions, I would appreciate that, too.—H. C. C.

Answer: Remington Rand, Inc., does a world-wide business in four main groups of products. These are typewriters and supplies, office systems and equipment, accounting and adding machines, and punched card accounting equipment and supplies. Its electric razor is made by General Shaver corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary.

On the basis of its sales volume, the company is the largest enterprise of its kind in the United States. Typewriters, filing and indexing equipment and cabinets normally account for about three-fourths of its total revenue. About one-third of its business is done in foreign countries.

Here's a picture in figures of the company's operations in recent years:

Yr. End. March 31.	Sales	Net Income.	Inc. per Com Shr.
1939	$43,404,865	$1,756,391	$ .59
1938	49,377,245	4,509,733	2.32
1937	45,633,411	3,516,732	1.73
1936	39,358,254	3,010,288	1.24
1935	33,388,891	1,750,591	.39
1933	22,483,607	*2,481,030	*2.97
1932	32,247,071	*3,035,733	*3.32
1929	63,291,624	2,927,766	1.15

*Loss.

At the close of its fiscal year the company had outstanding 184,932 shares of $4.50 cumulative preferred stock and 1,584,895 shares of $1 par common stock. Funded debt consisted of $19,385,000 of 4¼ per cent debentures due March, 1956. Current assets totaled $28,730,901, against current liabilities of $3,869,858.

Regular dividends of $1.12½ a quarter are being paid on the preferred stock. During the present calendar year a total of 60 cents, including payment of 20 cents a share July 1, has been made on the common stock. This compares with 90 cents in cash and 1/100 share of preferred stock paid in 1938 on the common. In 1937 a total of $1.05 and 2 per cent in stock was disbursed.

Both classes of stock are speculative at present.

LONDON STOCKS FIRM; AMERICAN ISSUES HIGHER

Mutual Assistance Pact with Russia Expected.

LONDON, July 4.—(AP)—The stock market today developed a decidedly firmer trend, apparently influenced by rumors that the Anglo-French mutual assistance pact with soviet Russia might finally be approaching consummation.

Both gilt edged securities and trans-Atlantic stocks showed gains. General Motors was up 1⅜ at the equivalent of 43⅛, and United States Steel advanced 1⅛ at 46.

British war loan 3½s showed an improvement of ⅝ at 93¾. Oils were firm under leadership of Royal Dutch. Home industrials were quiet but firm. Continental support pushed gold mining shares forward.

Price of Silver Slumps.

Foreign exchange quotations were steady, but the London silver market reflected uncertainty as to final clarification of the United States monetary policy and treasury purchase plans. The flat spot price for bar silver slumped the equivalent of 66-100ths of a cent at 37.66 cents an ounce, the lowest price since Oct. 17, 1933.

Operating independently of the New York market, which was closed, the Toronto market posted average gains of a point to 1½ points in the mining and industrial sections while western oils were up moderately.

Paris Bourse Firmer.

PARIS, July 4.—(AP)—Optimism regarding the progress of negotiations at Moscow for an anti-aggression pact spurred new buying on the bourse today. Slight price gains were general. French government bonds showed strength.

ARTIFICIAL RUBBER MADE CHEAPLY FROM BY-PRODUCT OF OIL

Development of a cheap method of manufacturing synthetic rubber was announced yesterday by Dr. Gustav Egloff, director of research for the Universal Oil Products company of Chicago.

The artificial rubber is produced from butane gas, which is a by-product of oil refining. The artificial rubber, Dr. Egloff said, will wear two to four times as long as ordinary Para rubber for most uses and can be produced cheaply enough to compete with natural rubber. He said the United States could, if necessary, meet all its rubber requirements by the new process.

The synthetic rubber has several advantages over natural rubber, according to Dr. Egloff: It can withstand greater heat and is more resistant to acid.

A CORRECTION
Recently we advertised 1938 Plymouth sedans at $435, stating in each case that the cars were "like brand new, equipped with hot water heaters." This was inaccurate as the cars were ex-taxicabs which were not equipped with heaters; we regret these errors and pledge they will not reoccur.
